HEIRESS WIFE WINS DIVORCE FROM BATONYI

Jury Accepts Her Proof That He Had Been Friendly With Another Woman.

HE DENIES CHARGES

Defendant on Witness Stand Declares Detectives Have Hounded Him.

HAS HAD THREE NAMES

Says That in This He Only Followed the Example of His Wife's Family.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The sealed verdict handed in last night by the jury in the divorce case of Mrs. Frank Work-Burke-Roche-Batonyi against Aurel Batonyi, the professional whip and society riding master, was opened today in Justice O'Gorman's court. It finds Batonyi guilty of one of the two statutory offenses charged, and Mrs. Batonyi will get her decree, although Batonyi's counsel announced that an appeal would be taken.

The jury was called upon to decide whether or not Batonyi misconducted himself in December, 1907, with Mrs. Lilly Lawrence (or Margaret Allen), in an apartment in Central Park West and with Beatrice Brevaine in March, 1908, in a taxicab in Central Park. After long consideration the 12 men who heard the evidence decided that Batonyi was guilty of misconduct with Margaret Allen, but absolved him of blame in the taxicab incident.

Neither of the principals in the suit was in court when the verdict was read, but counsel for both sides were on hand.

Morris Cukor, counsel for Batonyi, offered a motion setting aside the verdict as improper and against the evidence. The motion was overruled and W. M. K. Olcott served notice for Mrs. Batonyi that he would immediately apply to a justice of the special term for a review of the evidence and an interlocutory decree.

Met on Coaching Trip.

It was during a coaching trip on the box of the public coach "Good Times" that Batonyi met Mrs. Burke-Roche, then divorced from her first husband, an English public man of some note. A brief courtship resulted in their marriage in August, 1905.

A year later the news was broken to Frank Work. The aged millionaire flew into a passion, it is said, and Batonyi alleges, threatened that unless his daughter began steps at once to free herself from the union he would disinherit her.

Soon afterwards an action for divorce was begun by Mrs. Batonyi. The husband retaliated by bringing a counter suit in which he named 11 men. He also sued his wife's father, her sister and brother-in-law, her cousin and Mr. Work's confidential secretary, claiming damages aggregating $1,500,000 for the alienation of his wife's affections. These actions are still pending.

Denies Wife's Charges.

Batonyi took the stand himself yesterday to deny his wife's charges of improper conduct with two women.

After a great deal of family history had been given, counsel for both sides summed up and the Court told the jurors that if they accepted the denial by Batonyi that he knew or had visited an apartment house in Central Park west or had taken a taxicab ride with Beatrice Brevaine, an actress, they must bring in a verdict in his favor. If, on the other hand, they did not accept the denial, there yet remained to them the duty of determining from the evidence of the seven witnesses for the plaintiff whether or not a statutory offense had been committed.

When the jury came in court again, after three hours' deliberation, it was announced that answers to the questions as propounded by the Court had been decided upon. They were, therefore, sent home for the night, with instructions to report in the morning.

The defendant, immaculately dressed and with his mustache carefully waxed, spoke so heatedly and with such feeling while on the stand that he was admonished by the Court. He denied his wife's allegations in toto, branded them as lies, said he was hounded by detectives, and accused his wife's relatives and others of alienating her affections in connection with which he had a suit for damages pending.

Admits Changing His Name.

Cross-examination of the defendant by Mrs. Batonyi's lawyer brought out some new side lights on the case.

"What is your real name?" he was asked.

"Aurel Batonyi."

"You have had another name?"

"Two other names," responded the defendant.

"What were they?"

"Kohn and Muremberg," he replied.

"I changed my name just as the Works did. Their name was originally Worth when they were sailors."

Mrs. Batonyi is the daughter of Frank Work, whose wealth is estimated in the millions. She was divorced from her first husband, Burke-Roche, and her marriage to Batonyi caused much comment.

"I see," said the druggist, "that there is quite a difference between a driver and a chauffeur."

"Where did you learn that?" asked the grocer.

"Why, in the Circuit Court yesterday Fred Van Blarcom testified that he was the driver of a machine, but not its chauffeur. When they asked him to explain, he said that a driver merely drives, but a chauffeur both drives the machine and keeps it clean."

"I see. What is Jep Howe, then?"

"I wasn't talking about a political machine."

FLY ON A WIRE CAUSES MAN TO BE KNOCKED SENSELESS

Baseball Player Has Unusual Accident While Trying to Field Ball.

A fly on a wire caused George Meng of Edwardsville to be shocked into insensibility.

The fly was knocked by a batsman of an opposing baseball team. Meng, who was playing center field, ran to catch it. The ball struck an electric light wire with such force that the wire snapped and fell directly in front of the outfielder. The dangling end struck Meng and he sank to the ground.

Members of both teams ran to him and worked with him 10 minutes before reviving him. He was taken to his home where physicians said that his condition was not serious. The accident broke up the game, which was being played on a vacant lot.

YOUNG WOMAN ADVERTISES FOR POSITION AS CHAUFFEUR

Miss Beattie Says She Must Work While Waiting Trial on Larceny Charge.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Miss Eleanore Lorraine Beattie, who was extradited from London recently on a charge of grand larceny and is now under bond for trial, has added another chapter to her curious career by endeavoring to obtain a place as chauffeur, having inserted the following advertisement in a local paper:

> CHAUFFEUR—Lady, having owned and driven several kinds of automobiles, is forced through untoward circumstances to seek sit. as chauffeur; highest refs.; moderate salary.

She was arrested in England, charged with having obtained $2000 worth of silverware from the Gotham Manufacturing Co. by representing herself as Mrs. Margaret B. Stearns. She told a reporter she was a member of a titled English family and would come into a lot of money when certain people died, but she could not wait on that. She said she would willingly take a job from one of the taxicab companies if she could get it.

SCHOPPE NAMES HEAD OF VIVIANO KIDNAPING PLOT

Captain Says Benadetto Marchesi, Saloon Keeper, Made All the Plans.

TURRISI WAS A TOOL

Leader in Scheme Had Been in Similar Plot Before and Came to St. Louis.

Capt. Joseph N. Schoppe of the Carr Street District, in a detailed report to Chief Creecy Tuesday of his efforts to capture the kidnapers of the Viviano children, says the kidnaping was planned by Benadetto Marchesi, who was known in Chicago as Benadetto Louis.

He left Chicago two years ago, after a kidnaping, and came to St. Louis and opened a saloon in the Italian district, and disappeared soon after the kidnaping of the Viviano children.

Capt. Schoppe thinks Marchesi inspired Sam Turrisi to kidnap the children and take them to Chicago and hold them for ransom. Marchesi, according to Capt. Schoppe, never went to Chicago after the kidnaping of the Viviano children, but Vincenzo Ricardi and Tony Bertilino, who were also in the plot, did go to Chicago, and both were there last week after the children were found.

Much valuable information was obtained from the trunks shipped by the kidnapers to Chicago and never claimed. These trunks were shipped to Benadetto Louis, and in them many letters written to Turrisi by his sweetheart in Italy were found. The sweetheart is Mariette Rossieli of Partinaco, Italy.

Steamship Men Aid.

Frequent mention was made in these letters of 70 Oak street, Chicago, and Capt. Schoppe had several consultations with Maccia & Manno, proprietors of a steamship agency at that number. These men volunteered to help him. Capt. Schoppe says he believed from the information he got that the kidnapers were in the vicinity of this place, and with Sergt. Androveno and Antonio Borro he began a house-to-house canvass of the Italian quarter. Borro, in disguise, represented that he was searching for his brother.

In this way he got into the Italian houses, and were working their way to Oak street and Larabbee avenue, where the children were found.

The agent of the Adams Express Co. in Chicago at first refused to permit Capt. Schoppe to search the trunks shipped there by the kidnapers, but Chief Creecy made arrangements by whihc Schoppe got what he desired. He had the letters translated, and used the information in tracking down Turrisi, whom he believed was the tool of Benadetto Marchesi and his companions. Capt. Schoppe believes he would have captured the kidnapers if they had not released the children.

Capt. Schoppe said when he went to Chicago on his furlough he found the circulars sent there by the St. Louis Police Department had never been distributed among the Chicago policemen, and apparently no effort had been made to find the children or the kidnapers.

Bertilino was seen playing pool in a saloon in Chicago last Thursday night, and Ricardi was traced to another Italian resort at 107 Clark street.

Photographs of Marchesi and the parents of Turrisi were found in the trunks at Chicago. Capt. Schoppe says these pictures indicate that Turrisi and Marchesi were partners in the kidnaping with Marchesi as leader.

5 MASKS FOUND ON MEN WOMAN HAS ARRESTED

They Declare Face Covers Were for a Fancy Dress Ball.

Mrs. Lottie Terrell, who teaches dancing classes at Westminster Hall, 3806 Olive street, saw three familiar faces as she passed through the waiting room at Union Station Wednesday.

They were the faces of three men who sat on a bench. So familiar were the countenances that Mrs. Terrell sought a policeman.

"When I was in Chicago three weeks ago three men jumped out of an alley and tried to rob me," she said. "I think the men are in the waiting room now."

Patrolman Chase arrested the men. When they were searched at Police Headquarters five black masks were found in their possession.

The prisoners gave their names as Joseph Sutton, Samuel Burch and George Hoffmeister and said their homes are in Kirkwood. Sutton had three masks and Burch had two.

At the station Mrs. Terrell said she was not sufficiently sure of the identity of the men to swear to warrants against them.

"But I know I have seen them somewhere," she said.

"Sure, we made these masks to go to fancy dress balls," said Sutton to the Desk Sergeant. "The lady says she is a dancing teacher. Maybe she saw us at a dance."

The men told Lieut. Hess they had been in Chicago looking for work, but they denied that they were there when the attempt at robbery was made.

As Mrs. Terrell would not positively identify them, they are held on vagrancy charges.

ST. LOUIS GIRL TO TAKE RAILWAY MAGNATE'S NAME

Miss Theodora Shirley, Granddaughter of the President of the Illinois Central Railroad, Will Inherit Part of His Fortune.

Miss Theodora Shirley, a 15-year-old St. Louis girl, by a court order in Chicago, is to become Miss Theodora Harahan, taking the name of her grandfather, James Theodore Harahan, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, director in several great corporations and one of the right-hand men of the late E. H. Harriman.

Miss Shirley's grandfather is the petitioner for the change in her name, and his motive is love for his favorite grandchild and a desire to make her one of the most generously remembered heirs when his fortune of several million dollars is divided.

Miss Shirley is now at St. Clara College, Sinsinawa, Wis., where she is very much distressed lest her girl chums will think it "queer" that her name is changed by a grave judge after she has reached the age of 15 years.

Nevertheless, she is devoted to her grandfather and is pleased that he wants her to wear his own name. In fact, her grandfather, who has been her guardian ever since she was a mite of a girl, wants to adopt her, but her mother, Mrs. Mary Harahan Nicol, will not consent to that.

Has Been Living in St. Louis.

Mrs. Nicol and Miss Shirley have been making their home for some months with Mrs. A. N. Dale, wife of the secretary of the Madison Coal Corporation, who lives at 4384 McPherson avenue. Mrs. Nicol and Mrs. Dale are sisters. Mrs. Nicol was in Chicago Wednesday, the petition for a change of her daughter's name being expected to come before the court during the day.

Since Miss Shirley's mother moved to St. Louis last summer Miss Shirley has not spent much time in this city, being away at resorts during the summer. She expects to go to Carlsbad with her grandfather next summer, but next fall she will enter Mary Institute, if the plans of her mother and aunt do not miscarry.

That will mean that her chums will cease to be Chicago girls attending St. Clara College and that she will have for her friends St. Louis girls, students at Mary Institute. They will not have known her as Miss Shirley and it will not seem "queer" to them to call her "Miss Harahan."

Mother Is a Widow.

Mrs. Nicol, Miss Shirley's mother, is the widow of Alex Nicol, who died two years ago. She has been married twice and Miss Theodora Shirley is her daughter by the first marriage. The little girl was given the feminine form of her grandfather's "middle name," Theodore.

A large part of Miss Shirley's life has been spent in Chicago and much of that time she and her mother lived at hotels, notably the Auditorium Annex. There the winsome, dark-eyed child met many prominent Chicagoans and many theatrical people. She became a special favorite of leading actors and actresses, and her room at Mrs. Dale's home contains many autograph photographs of men and women stars.

Will J. Davis, a Chicago theater owner, and Miss Theodora have been warm friends since she was a baby, and now that she has grown to be a tall school girl and able to judge plays, the friendship continues. Mr. Davis telegraphed to Mrs. Dale just a few days ago asking if Miss Theodora were not in St. Louis and saying that if she were he wanted her to come to Chicago and see a fine new play he was producing.

Changes Mind About Stage.

There was a time when Miss Shirley thought she would like to be an actress, but, Mrs. Dale says, it was not many months ago that she remarked, "I don't want to be an actress now, aunty; I've seen too much of life behind the scenes."

Miss Shirley is of a very retiring disposition and is known as the only girl among the 300 at St. Clara College who has no roommate. Miss Shirley has a room all to herself.

Withal, however, those who know her say she is a simple, unaffected, wholesome girl, full of life and energy. Her mother hopes that she will develop some vocal ability, but as yet Miss Shirley has not been distinguished by any particular talent. She is a beauty, however, her friends and relatives declare. Her eyes are her most attractive feature.

Is Her Grandfather's Pet.

This quiet, rather demure miss is not at all concerned with the prospect of one day inheriting a large part of her grandfather's millions. She loves to ride and walk and sit with Mr. Harahan, but she would love him just as fondly if he didn't have a dollar in the world.

And Mr. Harahan is wrapped up in the child. She is and has been ever since she was a baby, his pet.

It isn't that children are a scarcity in the Harahan family, either, for his elder son, W. J., who is 33 years old, has nine, and the grandfather and grandchildren are very fond indeed of each other.

COUNCIL'S ACTION SHOWS THE CITY'S NEED FOR SUBWAY

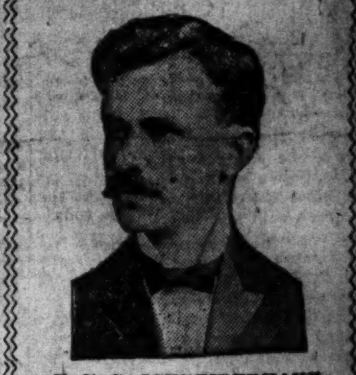
Post-Dispatch Plan for Solving Transit Problem Is Indorsed in Schneiderhahn Resolution.

PRESENT CAR SERVICE DECLARED INADEQUATE

Test of City's Power to Compel Running of More Cars, Abandonment of Unused Tracks and Payment of Mill Tax Indebtedness, Is Proposed.

Strongly indorsing the plan to build a subway in St. Louis, originally urged and advocated by the Post-Dispatch, the City Council in a resolution denounces the inadequate transportation facilities furnished by the United Railways Co. and threatens to revoke or amend the franchises under which the company is operating.

The resolution offered by Councilman Schneiderhahn at Tuesday's meeting, was adopted without a dissenting vote and will be taken up by the House of Delegates at its next meeting. Sentiment in the House is said to be strongly in favor of its indorsement.



E. V. P. SCHNEIDERHAHN.

That the building of a subway alone would be a great achievement is the belief of the councilmen, but they are agreed that while that work is under way, some means must be found whereby the United Railways Co. may be forced to meet its franchise obligations or surrender its franchise privileges.

Says City Has Remedy.

On that point Councilman Schneiderhahn gave out this dictated statement Wednesday:

"If the original franchises granted to the United Railways Co. were carefully drawn, so as to reserve to the city the right to amend or repeal them, then the city still has a remedy. But we know that some franchises, at least, were not intended to protect the city and were obtained by boodle and corruption. In preparing the resolution which I have presented to the Assembly I did not have time to examine each provision of every franchise under which the United Railways Co. is operating, but I am convinced that the city has a remedy.

"I had the advice and help of the Law Department in framing the resolution, but, further than that statement, I do not care to go now. I feel that the purpose of this investigation might be defeated by telling at this time just what the city's powers and remedies are.

"The statute of 1899, permitting the consolidation of the street railways, did not impair the city's right to regulate the service. It was simply legislative sanction of the merger, and could not change or repeal the franchises. This inquiry is intended not merely to disclose what conditions exist, but also to afford relief."

Lambert E. Walther, City Counselor, gave out this statement:

"The city has a right to regulate the service of the United Railways Co., and to impose police regulations. I cannot go into the details of particular cases without studying every section and provision of each franchise.

"The act passed by the Legislature in 1899 did not and could not deprive the city of authority to enforce conditions of the franchises under which the United Railways Co. is doing business. That act gave the company some powers in addition to those granted by the city, and also made some restrictions, but it did not minimize the city's police powers.

"A franchise is a contract, subject to all the conditions of a contract, and the company holding the franchise must abide by such conditions as provide for the alteration or repeal of the contract."

United Railways Condemned for Bad Service and Evasion of Obligations

Councilman Schneiderhahn's resolution urges that the city invite and obtain an adequate subway or other modern rapid transit service, and it scores the United Railways Co. for failing to meet its obligations to the public.

Service Inadequate.

The resolution reads:

There is complaint that on some of the lines of the United Railways Co. of St. Louis the service is not as frequent as required by law.

In certain parts of the city there are portions of track of the said company never used for traffic, as, for instance, the De Baliviere loop in Forest Park and the double tracks on Channing avenue, and all such unused tracks ought to be removed.

There is a general complaint that the service of the United Railways Co. is inadequate during the rush hours of the day, resulting in rude and disgraceful crowding, tedious delays and extra trips to initial points of lines to obtain accommodation. It became apparent during the recent Centennial week that the present street car facilities of St. Louis are wholly inadequate to handle a holiday or other special movements of passengers.

The so-called 1 mill license tax took the place of the old street car license tax, under which car license tax as few cars as possible were run by the street railroad companies. The 1 mill tax amounted in July 1, 1909, to the principal sum of $1,245,835.30, and has been upheld by the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States rendered thereon. Nevertheless the company refuses to pay the tax, notwithstanding the fact that the Supreme Court of the United States has sustained the validity thereof, and by such refusal the City of St. Louis is put to the expense of additional lawsuits to enforce the collection of said tax.

It becomes important for the Municipal Assembly to know the extent of its powers respecting the said United Railways Co., and some policy ought to be pursued with reference to the same, whether by repeal of certain ordinances or amendment of others, or new legislation to secure a more adequate service and to better safeguard the rights of the City of St. Louis. It also becomes important to ascertain what policy the Municipal Assembly should pursue, if any, to invite and secure an adequate subway or other modern rapid transit service upon terms that may be just and reasonable.

Therefore, be it resolved by the Council, the House of Delegates concurring therein, that a committee of appointed, consisting of three members of the Council, appointed by the president, and three members of the House of Delegates, appointed by the speaker, to investigate into the matters referred to in this resolution, and to report to the Municipal Assembly their findings and recommendations thereon.

Says He Put It Mildly.

To a Post-Dispatch reporter Mr. Schneiderhahn predicted on the floor of the Council Tuesday that the investigation of the special committee, if one is created, will show something "rotten."

"What I have alleged in my resolution in respect to the service of the United Railways Co., is a mild statement of the real situation," said Councilman Schneiderhahn. "I know, for instance, that dozens of cars are kept in the sheds while the people are compelled to stand morning and evening. There will be some startling revelations if the committee goes into the question."

The House of Delegates failed to con-

CONSTABLE REED WHIPPED AFTER HITTING WOMAN

Athletic Officer Is Badly Bruised While Resisting Four Policemen.

HAD BEEN DRINKING

Declares He Has Little Recollection of Fight Which Started in Store.

"Connie" Reed, deputy constable in Justice James P. Miles' court, is a prisoner in the City Hospital, suffering from injuries inflicted by four policemen, who had to use their fists in wresting a revolver from Reed, after he had struck and kicked a woman and fired four shots in the air.

Reed, who is a baseball and soccer football player, went to Mrs. Lydia Mandelstamm's grocery store, at 1501 Wash street, Tuesday afternoon, to serve a landlord's summons for rent collection. Mrs. Mandelstamm's little sons, who were present, say Reed used insulting language and was pushed out of the store by their mother, and that he struck her in the face and kicked her in the stomach, then drew his revolver.

A man passing along the street caught Reed's hand to prevent him from using the weapon. In the struggle four shots were fired. Reed says he fired to attract the police.

Four officers arrived, three of them men of powerful frame. They subdued Reed, after a hard struggle, and sent him to the hospital.

Reed denied using violence against Mrs. Mandelstamm, but admits that he was under the influence of liquor when he entered the store. Mrs. Mandelstamm, who fainted during the excitement, and is confined to her bed, says she will apply for a warrant charging Reed with assault and battery.

Patrolman Oertli of the Carr Street Station, in uniform, and Special Officers Sullivan, Thornhill and Scheller wrestled with Reed for possession of the revolver, finding it necessary to give him several smart blows. All the officers except Sullivan are men of powerful frame. Reed was sent to the hospital under arrest.

Woman Fainted During Fight.

Mrs. Mandelstamm fainted while the fight was in progress. She was carried to her bed in a room back of the store. Wednesday morning she remained in bed, suffering from the shock and the kick she received. She said she would apply for a warrant charging Reed with assault and battery.

Reed said to a Post-Dispatch reporter at the hospital that he had been drinking when he entered the store and that several men and women other than Mrs. Mandelstamm were there. He said somebody hit him on the back of the head and there was a general mixup, but he could not remember it clearly.

Deputy Constable Reed was arrested and fined a year or two ago for engaging in a fight with Frank Sebastian, manager of the Orphan Boys' baseball team. Reed was playing in a game against the Orphan Boys at South End Park and attacked Sebastian in a dispute over a decision by the umpire.

CONFESSED BURGLAR WILL HANG HIMSELF, HE DECLARES

Nothing but a Rope Will Do Him Any Good, He Says.

William Mueller, the Austrian, who after being identified by several women confessed that he was a daylight burglar, told the turnkeys in Central District holdover Wednesday that he is going to hang himself the first opportunity he gets.

"There is nothing for me to live for any more," he sobbed. "Nothing but a rope will do me any good. I am going to make an end of myself."

Mueller says he was honest for 40 years, saved a thousand dollars of hard-earned money and invested it in a business.

"I was robbed of my money so I began stealing to make up for my loss," he said. "I robbed maybe four or five houses, but not 50 as the police say."

A close watch will be kept on Mueller when he is transferred to the jail Wednesday afternoon.

CHEMISTS' REPORT WEAKENS CHARGE OF MURDERING GIRL

Analysis Nothing More Harmful Than Vegetable Soup. —Two Men Accused.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 20.—The case againht Frank Hill and Wilfred Thibeault, held until Monday on a charge of murdering Amelia St. Jean, was weakened, if not destroyed, today, by the chemists' report of the analysis of the stomach of the girl.

Marshal Fleet announced today that the analysis showed that the deceased had eaten vegetable soup containing carrots and potatoes, eat bananas and bread and had drunk tea at the meal which preceded her death. According to the aunt, Mrs. Lamourx, with whom Miss St. Jean lived, no soup had been served at any meal that day.

The train was running 30 miles an hour. The track is blocked and two wreckers have been dispatched to the scene of the accident.

cur in the resolution because Delegate Jacobs objected to the appointment of a special committee. He said the railroads committee could conduct the inquiry more satisfactorily than any other.

A motion to defer action for a week was passed.

POST-DISPATCH SHOWED NEED OF SUBWAY TRANSPORTATION

The need of a subway has long been felt in St. Louis, and the field for an adequate system of underground rapid-transit has been considered so inviting that foreign capitalists at various times have visited the city to study it.

The Post-Dispatch was one of the first to point out the need, and to urge that St. Louis get in line with other great cities of the world and provide a modern system of transportation. It strongly advised against the construction of an elevated railway to relieve the surface congestion of traffic, and pointed out that the subway has been found the best system wherever it has been tried. This was in 1906.

Several months later, Albert T. Perkins, municipal terminal expert, followed the lead of the Post-Dispatch, and said in a public speech that St. Louis would never have adequate transportation until it should have a subway.

John I. Beggs, then president of the United Railways Co., at a meeting of the Engineers' Club, said that St. Louis needed a subway and could not have it too soon.

At the direction of Mayor Wells, a bill authorizing St. Louis to build a municipal subway and lease it to a private corporation was submitted to the State Legislature. It passed, with an amendment providing that it be submitted to popular vote. At the election last fall a constitutional amendment authorizing St. Louis to build a subway was defeated by vote of the people of the State.

This action, however, in no way affects the power of the city to grant a subway franchise to a corporation.

As pointed out by the Post-Dispatch, six of the world's chief cities have subways for passenger traffic. Two of these, Boston and Budapest, are less populous than St. Louis.

The New York subway, clean, smokeless and lined with tile, has more than 65 miles of trackage, and is being extended all the time.

Paris has just completed 40 miles of subway. Every subway so far constructed has been a gold mine for its owners and operators.

One route for a subway, frequently suggested, is from Fourth street to Vandeventer avenue, under Olive street, with north and south branches under Eighteenth street, Jefferson avenue, Grand avenue and Vandeventer avenue.

It was estimated by Expert Perkins that the cost of building 20 miles of subway would be $35,000,000.

SOUTH BROADWAY MERCHANTS PLAN EAST AND WEST TROLLEY

The South Broadway Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association has started a "get-together" movement of its own.

It has a plan for increasing the number of factories in St. Louis, and it is after the United Railways Co. with a big stick.

At Tuesday night's meeting in Loebig's Hall, Broadway and Geyer avenue, it was urged that the Association apply for a franchise for an independent street railway line to run east and west and connect with the Broadway line.

After several speeches had been made by members, who believe that $250,000 could easily be raised to start this movement, it was decided that the United Railways Co. be given one more chance to give the South Broadway merchants the street car service which they demand.

It was pointed out that east and west lines of the United Railways system, between Chouteau avenue and Chippewa street, approach within a few blocks of Broadway, but that there is no direct connection with that busy thoroughfare and the southwestern residence district.

The meeting pledged support to this idea of creating new factories and members of the association promised to buy stock in them.

Cook Favors Copenhagen.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 20.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook said here today that he will be ready to submit proofs of the discovery of the North Pole to the University of Copenhagen within two months, or possibly within a month. He will begin work upon his documents on his return to New York, immediately after the close of his lecture tour at Minneapolis, next Monday.

"These documents will consist of astronomical and geographical data, my observations and records," he said. "It was my original plan to submit these proofs first to the University of Copenhagen, and there has never been any reason for changing it.

"There is no reason why the National Geographic Society should be given precedence over any other society in America, and the records will be open to the inspection of all such societies after the University of Copenhagen has completed its investigation. My instruments cannot be brought from Etah until next summer."

Peary Turns Over Records.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Commander Robert E. Peary's observation records and proofs that he reached the North Pole on April 6, 1909, were submitted to the National Geographic Society today and were referred by that body later to a committee on research with the direction that the chairman appoint a subcommittee of experts to examine the records and report on them to the board.

PEARY'S POLAR PROOFS GIVEN TO SCIENTISTS

National Geographic Society Receives Record of Last Spring's Journey.

COOK'S DATA DELAYED

Copenhagen University, Which Hasn't Received Them, Wants Them First.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Commander Robert E. Peary's proof, records and observations that he reached the North Pole April 6 last were today submitted to the National Geographic Society. The board of managers of the society referred them for examination and report to a subcommittee of experts, comprising Henry Gannett, chief geographer of the United States Geological Survey; Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, U. S. N., and O. H. Tittman, superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey. The society announced that the only question it now had to decide was whether Commander Peary reached the North Pole on the date claimed.

The experts designated by the society will hold their first meeting within a few days and inaugurate their investigation of the Peary data. They will personally examine the notebooks and original observations made by Commander Peary on his march to the pole, and will see all papers brought back by him from the north.

Report to Take Months.

The wide scope of the investigation renders it probable that the sub-committee will not report its findings for several months, but when ready, the report will be submitted to a meeting of the Board of Managers of the society, especially called for that purpose.

While the meeting was in progress, and shortly after the receipt of the Peary data, a messenger brought a cablegram from the University of Copenhagen, in reply to the society's request that the institution waive its first claim to Dr. Cook's records. The cablegram read:

> National Geographic Society, Washington:
> Sorry. University regrets not able comply with your request.
> (Signed) TORP. REKTOR.

Prof. Willis L. Moore, president of the National Geographic Society, declared, after the board meeting, that the society believed that Commander Peary's claim that he reached the pole should be passed upon without further delay.

Will Not Wait on Cook.

"The society is ready to make similar examination of Dr. Cook's original observations and field notes," Prof. Moore said, "but, as he promised to send them to the University of Copenhagen, and the society will not have an opportunity of seeeing them for probably some months, it does not seem fair to defer action on Commander Peary's observations until Dr. Cook's papers were received.

"The action of the society was taken in accordance with its by-laws, which provided that "the committee on research shall be charged with the consideration of all matters on scientific and technical geography, including exploration, which may be brought before the society."

The society had urged both Commander Peary and Dr. Cook to submit their observations to a competent scientific commission in the United States.

The society joined in a request from the American Museum of Natural History, New York, and the American Geographical Society, to President Remsen of the National Academy of Sciences that he appoint a commission to pass upon the records of both explorers. The society began to formulate plans for immediate action on the Peary records, when Dr. Remsen announced that he would not appoint a commission unless authorized by his council, which meets in November, and unless requested by both Peary and Cook.

DODGED THE DEBTORS' LAW, MUST PAY EMPLOYE'S BILL

Judge Instructs Jury to Find Verdict for Tailors Who Sold to Workman.

An employer who pays wages to an employe after having been notified that the wages have been assigned as security for a debt, must pay the amount of the debt, according to the verdict of a jury, given under the instructions of the Court, in Judge Withrow's court.

John Riley, an employe of William Fedder of 822 North Fourth street, bought a $20 suit from Larus & Altheimer, a clothing firm. He paid $8 and assigned his salary as security for the balance. He failed to pay the balance and the clothing firm sued Fedder in Justice Spaulding's court. Judgment there was in favor of Fedder, but Larus & Altheimer appealed. Fedder said that he paid Riley's wages in advance.

Judge Withrow concluded from the testimony that Fedder had money belonging to Riley after receiving notice from Larus & Altheimer, and instructed the jury to return a verdict against Fedder.

SENATOR M'CARREN HAS RELAPSE; IS NEAR DEATH

Doctor Says There Is Absolutely No Encouragement in Politician's Condition.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Senator McCarren suffered a relapse last night and this morning his condition was exceedingly grave. His physician, Dr. Peter Hughes, left St. Catherine's Hospital after spending over three hours in McCarren's room. He remarked to House Surgeon John O'Keefe:

"Well, doctor, I only hope you don't have to get me out of bed tonight."

To the reporters, Dr. Hughes said:

"There is absolutely no encouragement for Senator McCarren. His condition is still very serious and the Senator himself realizes the importance of the situation. He is making a hard fight; in fact, the hardest fight of his life. Senator McCarren is a very sick man."

Dr. Hughes had been with the patient continuously since 9:30 o'clock the previous evening.

STRIKE IMPENDS ON INTERURBANS ACROSS RIVER

Union Delivers Ultimatum to Roads Operating Between East Side Towns.

A general strike on the electric roads between Belleville, East St. Louis, Edwardsville, Granite City and Alton is probable, according to a statement made by William B. Fitzgerald of Troy, N. Y., an international officer of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes, at the convention of the State Federation of Labor at Belleville.

The announcement was made during a discussion of a resolution in which the convention was asked to indorse the Amalgamated Association and to disapprove of the Brotherhood of Interurban Trainmen. The convention adopted the resolution.

A local union of the Brotherhood of Interurban Trainmen was organized a few days ago at Edwardsville with a membership of 22 men. The members of the Amalgamated Association have an agreement, they say, with the East St. Louis & Suburban, in which the company recognizes this union. The company has been notified that if it recognizes the interurban organization, men in the Amalgamated Association, numbering several hundred, will be called out. The Amalgamated men declare the Interurban men are not union men. Fitzgerald said union representatives and officials of the company were to have a conference Thursday and that if the company did not accede the men would be called out at once.

THREE COUPLES ARE UNITED BY ONE CEREMONY

Poetic Justice Werremeyer Flustered by Sextette of Sweethearts.

JOB WORTH HIS FEE

Justice Stops Giggling by Telling Brides Matter Was Really Serious.

Three of a kind is a handy hand,
But I go up in the air,
For I can't understand how I get such a hand,
When I'm dealt three pair.
—Werremeyer.

Poetic Justice Werremeyer of Clayton was up in the air for three minutes Tuesday afternoon, when he married three couples at once. It was his first experience in drawing three pairs from the matrimonial deck, and to say that the Justice was flustrated is inadequate.

"I was so scared I felt 'flabby,'" said the poetic one, [illegible] all was over, "but—I'm mighty glad to get this $7.50, and I'm certain the job was worth the money."

The parties to the triple wedding were George C. Bartholomew, 23 years old, 504 North Channing avenue, and Miss Hattie Thompson, 18, 310 North Channing avenue; Henry Suhrenbrock, 21, 3036 Lucas avenue, and Miss Jewel S. Westbrook, 20, 6655 Garner avenue; Ralph E. Hammon, 22, and Miss Grace Westbrook, 18, sister of Jewel.

First Planned Double Wedding.

The three bridegrooms have been chums for two years. Suhrenbrock confided to Bartholomew not long ago that he was going to be married. "So'm I," said Bartholomew. "Let's make it a double wedding," suggested Suhrenbrock. "Sure!" assented Bartholomew.

Last Sunday Bartholomew and Miss Thompson went to the Westbrook home to talk over the details. Suhrenbrock was there. So was Hammon.

"Ralph and I are going to be married Christmas," announced Miss Grace Westbrook.

"Let's make it a triple wedding," suggested Ralph.

The suggestion was accepted, Tuesday being agreed upon for the day and Clayton for the place. Poetic justice, of course, selected Poetic Justice Werremeyer.

When they were being lined up for the ceremony something caused the girls to giggle.

Warned Not to Giggle.

"Now, girls," sternly said the Justice, "don't giggle; quit your laughing, for this is a serious affair and no laughing matter."

Justice Werremeyer's customary tan had turned pale. He fully appreciated the solemnity of the occasion. After lining up his raw material in a row and experiencing some difficulty in applying the right names to the right persons, he performed the ceremony.

The Westbrook sisters were gowned in dark blue. Miss Thompson wore white, with a veil. Grace Westbrook wanted to know before the ceremony if the word "obey" was to be used, and the Justice told her it was. She and her sister insisted that their husbands must promise to obey them, and the Justice acquiesced. Miss Thompson was willing to promise to obey her husband without his meeting her half way.

The Bartholomews, the Suhrenbrocks and the Hammons gayly trolleyed to the Channing avenue home of the new Mrs. Bartholomew, where the parents of that bride gave a reception Tuesday night to the three pairs.

POOS, HELD IN CONNECTION WITH FATHER'S DEATH, FREED

Man Who Thought He Killed Parent Finds He Did Not—Case Nolle Prosequied.

A nolle prosequi was entered in the case of Edward F. Poos, charged with assault to kill his father, August Poos, when the matter was called in Judge Shields' court Wednesday. This action was taken by Assistant Circuit Attorney Newton.

August Poos, the defendant's father, quarreled with his wife on May 17 in the family home above the Poos' jewelry store at 3564 South Broadway. The son took his mother's side and he and his father exchanged shots. The father shot the mother as he lay dying. She was in the hospital for several months.

Young Poos and the police at first thought that he had shot his father, but expert testimony before the grand jury developed the fact that the elder Poos had fired his own weapon on himself. The charge against the son was made assault to kill.

The only witnesses to the tragedy were Mrs. Poos and her daughter. Both were devoted to Edward Poos and Newton declared that it was useless to attempt a prosecution.

INSTITUTIONS TO BE REGULATED BY A COMMISSION

New Bill Will Take Hospitals Out of Jurisdiction of Health Board.

Having undergone some slight changes from the form which it was originally prepared by Councilman Espenschied, Hiram Lloyd and Dr. R. A. Walker of the House of Delegates, the bill contemplating the reorganization of the medical and eleemosynary institutions of the city, is again before the Municipal Assembly.

As originally proposed, the management of the several institutions is to be in the hands of a commission and a hospital commissioner appointed by the Mayor. The commission is to be one of seven members, including the hospital commissioner and the Mayor, who is to be its chairman.

A salary of $5000 a year is to be paid to the hospital commissioner. The other members are to receive $300 a year each. No two of the commissioners are to be connected with the same medical school and all must be citizens of St. Louis.

The positions for which small salaries or no salaries are allowed are to be filled by the commission. Such as are to be liberally compensated, like the superintendents of the various institutions, will be appointed, as now, by the Mayor.

Resident physicians and their assistants will have salaries of $100 and $50 a month, respectively. The visiting staff of physicians and dentists will serve without pay, after they have demonstrated their qualifications at a competitive examination. Their terms will be two years each. The superintendent of the quarantine will receive $150 a month, but must be also steward and clerk.

From two to five superintendents will have charge of the business management of the hospitals and other institutions. They will receive $2000 a year and are to be appointed by the Mayor. The superintendent of the sanitarium, as the Insane Asylum is to be designated, will also be resident physician. The name of the Poorhouse will be changed to infirmary.

The Health Commissioner and Board of Health are to be deprived of all jurisdiction over the hospitals, Insane Asylum and Poorhouse.

REPORTER ROUTS TWO NEGRO THUGS WITH HIS CANE

They Knock Him Down and Beat Him, but He Drives Them Off.

A heavy cane carried by Jacob Rosenfeldt, a newspaper reporter, aided him materially in routing two negro highwaymen, who beat and attempted to rob him on Market street, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, at 2 a. m. Wednesday.

Rosenfeldt, who is nearly 60 years old, was on his way from Police Headquarters, where he is assigned, to the office of his paper, when he was struck from behind and knocked down. As he was staggering to his feet one of the negroes snatched a match box from his hand and struck him in the face. Rosenfeldt then used his cane and the negroes fled from a shower of blows.

At the central dispensary, where he had a scalp wound and a cut under his right eye dressed, Rosenfeldt gave a description of the robbers. Several suspects were arrested.

ST. LOUISAN BACK FROM ALASKA IS FIRM FOR COOK

Declares Many Who Know Barrille Believe Explorer Reached McKinley Top.

That Alaska and the Pacific Northwest believe thoroughly in Dr. Frederick A. Cook as the conqueror of both Mount McKinley and the North Pole is the statement made by Fred S. Carroll of 5588 Chamberlain avenue, who has just returned from a six-months' trip to Alaska and the Pacific Coast. Mr. Carroll adds that Seattle does not believe in Barrille, the guide who made an affidavit to the effect that Cook did not get within 14 miles of the summit of Mount McKinley.

"I heard many persons in Seattle who knew Barrille say that he remarked after it was announced that Cook had reached the pole that the explorer owed him $200," said Mr. Carroll, "but Barrille said nothing at that time to cast discredit on Cook's Mount McKinley achievement. When Barrille read that Dr. Cook was receiving many lucrative offers to lecture he said he was going East to collect the $200."

It was only after Barrille had started East and met Attorney James M. Ashton at Tacoma, Mr. Carroll says, that he made any statement questioning Cook's veracity.

"I don't think he had gone any further on his way than Montana," said Mr. Carroll, "before Peary's friends caught him and got the affidavit from him."

Mr. Carroll says he met and talked with Miller, the photographer of the Cook Mount McKinley expedition, but did not question him, as it was not a matter that he was interested in personally.

"The newspapers of Seattle mentioned one day," Mr. Carroll said, "that Barrille said that Cook owned him $200 for guide service. The mention was made casually, and was not followed by any further discussion or report. There was nothing said about Barrille casting aspersions on Cook' truthfulness in any of the papers.

Mr. Carrol said that the Arctic Brotherhood, an Alaskan fraternal organization similar to the Elks, is a unit in favor of Cook and against Barrille, who is known personally at close hand to a large number of the members.

COL. ROOSEVELT AND HIS PARTY ARRIVE AT NAIVASHA

Ex-President Only One Who at Some Time Has Not Had Fever.

NAIVASHA, British East Africa, Oct. 20.—Col. Roosevelt, accompanied by R. J. Cunninghame, hunter and guide, arrived here today. All the members of the hunting expedition are well.

Edmond Heller, the zoologist of the party, returned last night, having ascended Mount Kenia to a height of 10,000 feet, or within 300 feet of the timber line. Mr. Heller said that Maj. Edgar A. Mearns was continuing the ascent, hoping to reach a height of 15,000 feet. Mount Kenia is an extinct volcano rising 17,200 feet, and Mr. Heller believed it was impossible for the climbers to reach the peak.

With the exception of Col. Roosevelt, the members of the expedition have at one time or another experienced slight attacks of fever as the result of frequent changes of temperature. All are now in good health.

DR. ELIOT STANDS BY DOCTORS IN VIVISECTION PLEA

Points Out the Value That Science Has Gained in Past Fifty Years.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Dr. Charles W. Eliot, President Emeritus of Harvard, comes out now in a defense of the vivisection of animals by physicians and students.

He says: "One point which I propose to examine is this: Is truth seeking in biology commendable even with the help of anesthesia and asepticism, even when the research must be conducted at the expense of the comfort or life of animals? The traditional idea on this subject has been that mankind has dominion over every living thing that liveth upon the earth, and may use every living thing as he pleases for his own advantage. The subjection of animals to human uses is considered, indeed, one of the evidences of civilization. Millions of creatures are killed daily for human food, the habits and natural joys of animals are interfered with on an immense scale by the most humane people without the slightest compunction.

"Think what it means to millions of cows every year that their calves are killed and that they themselves are kept for the most part tied up in barns!

"Think what indifference to the potentialities of animal life and joy the immense trade in eggs implies!

"How absolutely insignificant is the number of animals used for experimentation in all the scientific laboratories compared with the daily use of animal products the world over as food and clothing for mankind!"

POLITICIAN HELD FOR FORGERY OF $425,000 NOTES

Deposed Treasurer of Little Town Is Arraigned in Bed—Woman May Be Witness.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Oct. 20.—From the trifling loan of $200, made 10 years ago, to "tide over a friend," it is now believed that the forged notes circulated by John B. Lombard, deposed Town Treasurer, will amount well toward the three-quarter million mark. Already $425,000 of these notes have been found and there is reason to believe that perhaps as large a number have been sold in the West and have yet to be heard from.

When the final developments are heard, it is expected that a well-known woman of South Framingham will be called to testify. It is said that this woman has been very liberally supplied with jewels, automobiles and such luxuries for several years by one of the men whose name has been connected with the forgeries.

Since the disclosures the woman has remained in her home and all attempts to see her have proved futile. At the door visitors are told that she is ill.

Lombard, shattered in mind, enfeebled in body was arraigned for trial in his sick chamber at his home today and put under bonds of $20,000. His wife went surety for $10,000 of this.

Charles S. Cummings and Edward A. Meade, charged with being implicated in the Framingham forgery deals, were arraigned in Boston yesterday and were held for the November grand jury.

INQUEST SHOWS BUCHANAN DIED OF FATTY DEGENERATION

Doctor Denies Apoplexy Entered Into Causes of American Diplomat's Death.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The verdict of an inquest into the death of William I. Buchanan, the American diplomat whose body was found in the street late Saturday night, today is that "death was due to natural causes."

A new feature was the testimony of Dr. Trevor of St. George's Hospital, who made the autopsy, and stated Mr. Buchanan had suffered from fatty degeneration of the heart, gall stones and incipient Bright's disease. Death, he said, resulted from fatty degeneration and diseased blood vessels, and there was no evidence of apoplexy.

A memorial service for Mr. Buchanan was held in All Saints Church at Norfolk Square.

Mr. Buchanan had been director-general of the Pan-American Exposition, diplomatic representative of the United States in Venezuela and South American representative of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

BULLET HOLE IN WOMAN'S SKULL IS MURDER CLEW

No Weapons Near Bleached Bones Found in Woods on Long Island.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Around the bleached skeleton of the young woman found in a clump of woods they are weaving a mystery down at Islip, L. I., which may or may not be a murder of more than passing interest. Evidence was discovered today which indicates that the girl was shot.

A bullet found on the ground near the body was the first clew. A careful examination of the skeleton showed a bullet hole in the skull at the roof of the mouth. A wound in the mouth is usually self-inflicted, but no weapon was found near the bones, although trinkets and personal effects of the victim were undisturbed.

These trinkets, it is believed, will make the ultimate identification of the girl a comparatively simple matter. A number of articles of jewelry, including a gold watch with the initials "A. L.," a gold bracelet, a gold chain with pearl pendant, a silver thimble and a pair of scissors which were picked up near the skeleton, were turned over to the authorities, while several articles of foreign-made clothing, a bill of goods sold at a delicatessen store in Krebel, Prussia, and a folder of a transatlantic steamship company found beneath the skeleton led to the belief that the young woman had recently come to this country from abroad.

An effort is being made to identify the girl as Miss May Smith, a nurse at the Manhattan State Hospital at Islip. Miss Smith, who has been missing since last spring, was believed to be the fiancee of Augustus Schwartz, now in jail at Riverhead, L. I., awaiting trial on the charge of murdering Irving J. Nelson, an Islip politician, Sept. 18.

COMPETITION TO LOWER ELECTRIC LIGHTING RATES

New Tungsten Lamp Occasions Gas Company's Decision to Sell Current.

REDUCTION ONE-FIFTH

Consumer to Get Benefit Under Franchise Acquired by St. Louisans.

The new Tungsten lamp, which has reduced the cost of electrical illumination 20 per cent since its introduction two years ago, is the occasion of the plan of the Laclede Gaslight Co. to enter the electric lighting field as a competitor of the Union Electric Light and Power Co., according to a large gas company stockholder, who is also an electrical expert.

The new lamp has so reduced the expense of electric lighting that officials of the Laclede company found that, in order to retain its illuminating business it would have to utilize its electric lighting franchise. It is not a proprietary lamp, and is manufactured by all electrical supply houses.

While the North American Co. had control of both the Union Electric and Laclede companies, the electric business of the gas company was practically destroyed. The North American Co. owned 60 per cent of the stock of the gas company, but owned all of the stock of the electric company.

Let Gas Business Decline.

It was to the financial advantage of the North American Co. to transfer practically all the gas company's electrical business to the Union. Every time the Union Electric Co. took away a Laclede Gas consumer, the North American Co. got 100 per cent of the profits, instead of 60 per cent.

The Tungsten lamp consumes about one-third as much electricity as the old carbon lamp, but its cost to manufacture is such that the reduction to the consumer amounts now to about 20 per cent. As the cost of making the lamp is reduced, the cost of electricity to the consumer will continue to decline.

The block system of illumination, to be adopted by the Laclede Co., is now already in use here by the Light and Development Co., one of the corporations seeking to enter the electric field under one of the old franchises.

This company controls the block system that furnishes electricity to Famous, Wolff's and other business houses in the square bounded by Washington and Lucas avenues, Broadway and Sixth street. It is also putting in a block system to furnish electricity for the Buckingham Hotel and Buckingham Annex on King's highway.

Had to Drop Franchise.

The officials of the Union Electric have been hoping to maintain the monopoly on electric lighting in St. Louis, but the North American Co. had to let go of the electric franchise of the Phoenix Heat, Light and Power Co. when it sold the gas company to the syndicate of St. Louisans.

According to a director of the gas company, the company is going to make a determined fight for a share of the electric light and power business of St. Louis, and this competition, together with the use of modern appliances, is expected to be of considerable advantage in lowering rates to the consumer.

BLADDER TROUBLES NEED PROMPT ATTENTION.

Perhaps you don't know how much work is required of your kidneys and bladder or of how much importance they are. Do you know that on these important organs hinges good health? Many an apparently strong, healthy man or woman has been stricken without notice by serious kidney and bladder disease only to realize too late what might have been prevented with proper care and attention.

Some of the early symptoms of weak kidneys and bladder are lumbago, rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints or muscles, at times have headache or indigestion, dizziness, you may have a sallow complexion, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, sometimes feel as though you had heart trouble, may have plenty of ambition but no strength, get weak and waste away.

If you find you have some of the symptoms mentioned, you need then a remedy that will reach the seat of the disease and at the same time build up the system generally.

Such a remedy is Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. In thousands of cases it has accomplished just the work you need performed now.

Free Dyspepsia Sample

Sufferers from indigestion are waking up to the fact that peppermint lozenges, charcoal and "dyspepsia cures" are only makeshifts in the cure of so troublesome a complaint as chronic indigestion. What is required is something that will not only relieve but which will tone and train the digestive apparatus to again do its work normally, and this these simple remedies cannot do.

There is something more to the cure of indigestion than sweetening the breath, and yet a remedy that only contains digestive ingredients will not cure permanently, as the basis of indigestion is poor bowel circulation, and that requires a scientific laxative. We know of no remedy that combines these requirements better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which has been sold for a quarter of a century.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a laxative tonic, a scientific blending of natural ingredients for the cure of constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sour stomach, sick headache and similar complaints. Its ingredients will so strengthen and tone the stomach and bowel muscles that they will again do their work naturally, and when that has been accomplished your trouble is over. Fannie Stuart, Staunton, Va., was a long-time sufferer, as was O. Tuck, Blackburn, Mo., and they both found their cure with this remedy. They became convinced that pills and tablets, salts, "dyspepsia cures," etc., were at best only temporary reliefs. They first accepted Dr. Caldwell's offer of a free sample bottle, which he willingly sends to anyone who forwards name and address. Later, having convinced themselves through the free sample, they bought Syrup Pepsin of their druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R 509 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

TO APPEAL FROM RULING BLOCKING M'KINLEY LINE

Attorney Believes Case Will Get Immediate Trial in Supreme Court.

CONDEMNATION DENIED

Bridge Company Seeks Right-of-Way Over Terminal Association's Tracks.

Former Attorney-General Crow, representing the McKinley traction interests, told a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesday that an immediate appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court from Circuit Judge Withrow's decision that the St. Louis Electric Bridge Co., which has charge of the McKinley Bridge construction work, has no legal right to condemn a right of way over the Wabash tracks at Second and Hall streets.

A similar case, in which the Terminal Association is the chief opponent of the McKinley system, is pending in Judge Fisher's court.

"Because of the importance of this proceeding and the fact that my clients cannot complete the St. Louis approach to the McKinley Bridge until it is settled. I believe the Supreme Court will advance the case on its docket," said Mr. Crow. "It is possible we may get a decision some time next month."

Court's Second Decision.

Judge Withrow's ruling Tuesday is the second which he has made in reference to the McKinley traction system's contention that it has the same right to condemn a right of way over a railroad track as it would have to condemn private property for bridge purposes.

In the course of the argument on the demurrer, Judge Withrow admitted that private property may be condemned by a bridge company, but as the statute does not expressly say that railroad property may be condemned for this purpose, one railroad cannot cross another railroad.

Judge Withrow added that this is the sole question involved in the pending controversy.

Compensation Was Omitted.

In both cases Judge Withrow sustained demurrers filed by the Wabash company. At the first hearing the McKinley interests failed to include the question of compensation to the Wabash company in the event the right of way was granted. This provision was set forth in an amended petition.

Mr. Crow says he will direct the Supreme Court's attention to the case of the Thebes Bridge Co., which was allowed the same condemnation privileges by the courts for the approach to its bridge as is now sought by the McKinley interests.

"We are confident of a favorable decision in the upper tribunal," said Mr. Crow.

Entrance to City Resisted.

When the Terminal Association was fighting the State's suit to dissolve it on the ground that, among other things, it restricted railroad competition, the corporation contended that it was not a railroad company within the meaning of the statute. This, the Supreme Court upheld. In the case before Judge Fisher, the Terminal Association is resisting the McKinley system's efforts to enter St. Louis by asserting that since it is a railroad company, the bridge corporation cannot build over its tracks by means of condemnation proceedings.

FATHER REFUSES 75 CENTS, MAN SHOT SELF IN HAND

Tells Parent He Will End Life, but Misses Body—in Danger of Tetanus.

When Edward Rheinlander's father refused to lend him 75 cents the young man went to his room and shot himself in the left hand. He was taken to the City Hospital and is in danger of tetanus.

Rheinlander is 26 years old and lives at 1553 South Jefferson avenue. When he asked his father Tuesday night for money the latter told him he had been drinking, that he did not know the value of money.

Young Rheinlander then said he was going to kill himself. He went to his room and members of the family heard a revolver shot. When they reached his room, Rheinlander was holding a smoking pistol in his right hand.

Police of the Soulard Street District, investigating the shooting, say they do not understand how Rheinlander missed his body, if he aimed at it. Powder burns on the palm of his hand indicated the weapon was close when the shot was fired.

SCHOOL MA'AM SUES DIRECTOR FOR DAMAGES TO REPUTATION

She Says He Prevented Her Getting Employment and Asks for $5000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

STERLING, Ill., Oct. 20.—Miss Amelia Barth, a pretty little school teacher of Milledgeville, a small town north of this city, has filed a bill in the Carroll County Circuit Court, charging Stephen Hanna of that place with injuring her reputation as a school teacher and demanding $5000 damages.

Miss Barth was teaching school in the district in which Mr. Hanna was the director and in her bill she alleges that he made improper remarks about her reputation as a teacher and her ability to teach school. Miss Barch alleges that it has resulted in her failure to get a school this year.

She also alleges that the matter is a personal one with Hanna, and that he wanted to keep her from teaching the school so that Hanna's daughter could get the position.

WOMEN ASK FOR FEWER HOURS IN LABOR SESSION

Ten-Hour-Day Legislation Is Urged at State Federation's Meeting.

Women had their turn Wednesday at the annual meeting of the Illinois State Federation of Labor at Belleville. The morning session was under the direction of the National Woman's Trade Union League. Miss Mary E. McDowell of Chicago, a social worker connected with the Chicago University Settlement, presided.

Women speakers urged the men to help them obtain a law limiting the work day for women to 10 hours. Such a law was passed by the last Legislature, but has been taken to the Supreme Court on a question of constitutionality.

Miss Elizabeth Maloney, a member of the Chicago waitress' union, quoted from government statisticians to show that a waitress who works 12 hours a day lifts 1500 pounds and walks 10 miles.

Laundry Girls Lifts 4500 Pounds.

Miss Anna Millard, speaking for the laundry workers, said a laundress who worked 12 hours, ironed 500 shirts or 30 barber coats. In ironing a barbers' coat she had to lift a six-pound iron 25 times. In 12 hours she lifted 4500 pounds. If she used a machine she had to step from one foot to another 12,600 times.

Miss Mary Corrigan, elevated railway clerk, told of handling 4000 people in a 12-hour shift and opening gates for trains every minute.

Other addresses were by Miss Mary McEnerny of Chicago and Miss Sophia Kohll of Peoria.

A delegation of 10 St. Louis women attended the session. They were: Mrs. Anna Crane, Mrs. D. W. Knefler and the Misses Maggie Crane, Emily G. Sell, Maggie Mears, Katie Hurley, Hannah Hennesy, Minnie Miller, Sarah Straggon and May Smith.

TOURIST ON WAY TO ITALY WITH DYNAMITE, IMPRISONED

Held at Boston for Transporting Explosives Without Having Them Marked.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Michaelia Sonia, arrested here for transporting explosives in the State without having them marked, is wanted by the Federal authorities for having violated the interstate commerce laws regarding the transportation of explosives. Sonia came from Briston, N. B., to Boston with the dynamite and black powder endangering the lives of several thousand persons on the way. He was to sail for Italy on the steamer Alicia from New York.

The Federal authorities, unable to get any information from him as to why he had the stuff, are quietly investigating further, as it is believed he may have intended to blow up the ship or to use it on his arrival in Italy.

Sonia was sent to jail by the Municipal Court for 25 days in default of the payment of $25 fine, on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

THAT PALLID, ASHEN HUE

The forewarning of diseased kidneys' deadly work is in the gray pallor of your face—don't allow the kidneys to become deranged.

Day by day, there are people—men and women—gradually drifting along—taking little heed of the first signs of diseased kidneys and bladder—until the time for a cure is past. There is then little to hope for. Few persons even faintly comprehend the excessively deadly character of Kidney and Bladder ailments. If they did they would in no case delay seeking a cure.

Such insistent signals of danger as those intermittent pains and "hitches" in the back, groin and limbs (or constant dragging pains in back), headaches, bloating of the extremities, nervousness, tired-out feeling, sleeplessness at night, etc.—should convince you that your system is charged with that deadliest of all systemic poisons—uric acid.

And uric acid in your system surely means Kidney and Bladder disease—and, later, chronic rheumatism, inflammatory rheumatism, gravel and gallstones, dropsy, diabetes, serious nervous disorders, and Bright's Disease. You will readily see why you cannot afford to delay.

DeWITT'S KIDNEY AND BLADDER PILLS are the best remedy in the world for all such conditions. This statement is made with a full knowledge of the great and permanent benefits which have quickly resulted from their use, in multitudes of even the most desperate cases. We know just what they will do.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills give almost immediate beneficial results, in any Kidney and Bladder derangement, and are marvelously soothing, healing, antiseptic and reconstructive in their action upon the weakened, diseased and inflamed organs and tissues. You can hardly fail to experience permanent benefit and cure.

E. C. De Witt & Co., the manufacturers of these Pills, want every man or woman who has the slightest suspicion that he or she is a victim of Kidney or Bladder derangement, in any form, to at once know just how beneficial these Pills are.

To accomplish this, as quickly as possible, they will (even though these Pills are for sale at nearly all drug stores) send by return mail—to anyone who will merely take the trouble to write for it—a free trial of De Witt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. Surely no one can afford to neglect accepting so generous an offer. Send for it today.

Thousands of grateful men and women have accepted this offer, secured the free trial of treatment of De Witt's Kidney and Bladder Pills, and now state that they are free from every trace of the dreaded disease that was sapping their lives away.

TRAIN GOING MILE A MINUTE DERAILED; NO ONE INJURED

Frisco Engine, Pulling Only Mail Cars, Runs on Dirt, Then Overturns.

Fast mail train No. 1, the swiftest train on the Frisco Railroad, left the track at Dixon, Mo., 135 miles southwest of St. Louis, at 6 a. m. Wednesday, while running about sixty miles an hour, without injury to any person aboard.

The train carries no passengers. It is made up of several mail coaches, bearing the mails to Texas. It left St. Louis at 2:30 a. m. Just before reaching Dixon the engine passed over a broken frog, which threw it off the track, all the mail cars being also derailed. The engine stopped within a few feet of the Dixon station, turning over on its side. The coaches were considerably smashed.

The accident took place on level ground. The engineer shut off his power and the train ran along the ground, gradually slowing up, until the engine turned on its side. Traffic was blocked for several hours.

PIGGY I. HAILED AS SOVEREIGN AT PACKER'S FEAST

600 Millionaires Swear Fealty to New Ruler—Armour Eats Seven "Hot Dogs."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—"Bratwurst, bockwurst, wienerwurst. Hoch!

"Leberwurst, blutwurst, bologna, hot dog."

This squall from the lusty throats of 600 millionaire meat packers of America rang through the dining hall of the La Salle Hotel last night when the members of the American Meat Packers' Association sat down to their annual banquet. For the time pork was king. The royal ham, the princely pork chop and the imperial sausage came into their own.

The terms "Beef Magnate" and "Beef Baron" were not alluded to by any of the speakers. The entire bill of fare was made up of pork products and by-products.

Roast pigs, served whole and carved on the spot, were the piece de resistance. They were the whole squeal. Poor Sir Loin, formally endowed with knighthood at last year's spread, got the cold shoulder—as cold as these refrigerator experts could make it.

A distinguished assembly was present to swear allegiance to Piggy I. Gen. Michael Ryan of Cincinnati, president of the association; Louis F. Swift, Edward Swift, T. E. Wilson, C. M. McFarland, Edward Tilden and C. W. Burrows were among the pork princes who graced the groaning banquet board. Carter H. Harrison, former Mayor, leaned on the napery and made appropriate remarks. J. Ogden Armour delivered a defense of the sausage family, showing he believed what he said by eating (actual count) seven "hot dogs," the most abused member of the family.

CONFETTI BOX EXPLODES, SETS BRIDE ON FIRE

Hair and Hat Ignited by Machine Designed to Shower Honeymooners.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—Broad Street Station was thrown into a panic last night by the explosion of a box which was designed to scatter confetti over a bride and bridegroom on the ignition of a fuse.

Charles E. Mongan and his newly wedded wife, after a supper at the bride's home, set out for the station, accompanied by a crowd of friends, who were to give them a "send off" for New York, where they will make their future home.

One of the company carried a tubular tin box concealed under his overcoat, which was designed, upon the touching of a match to a fuse, to explode and scatter confetti in every direction. The device was held directly behind the bride's ear when it was shot off.

A loud report sounded through the station, and a woman's screams were heard. Mrs. Mongan put her hands to her head, to find it in flames, her hair scorching and her hat on fire. Her husband quickly sprang to her side, and with the assistance of the bystanders put out the flames. Then Mrs. Mongan fainted.

Meanwhile a crowd assembled and officials of the railroad put everyone in the crowd under arrest until the matter was explained.

Mrs. Mongan was assisted to the waiting room and recovered from her fright. Her hair was completely burned from the back of her head and her hat and traveling dress were ruined. The couple took the next train for New York, after exonerating their friends from blame in the matter, saying that the affair was an accident.

CROWD REVELS AS HEADS DROP BY GUILLOTINE

Terrific Yells of Fierce Pleasure Fill Air as Three Chauffeurs Die.

LIKE A CELEBRATION

Cafes of French City Swarm, Poets Sing and Play, Notorious Brigand Jokes.

Special Correspondence From Paris Bureau of Post-Dispatch.

VALENCE, Oct. 12.—David Liettard and Berruyer, the three chauffeurs of the Drome, who committed more murders than any band of brigands known in recent times, have been executed. When the moment for the execution approached, the excitement in the town and the whole country around, which the murderers had terriorized, increased.

Crowds had gathered at the railway station to watch for the arrival of the guillotine, and still larger crowds waited to see the executioner, Deibler, and his assistants step out of the train. More than ten thousand persons from the country and villages round about poured into the city, without the slightest hope of seeing the execution, but merely to be somewhat near, and to enjoy as it were, the revenge of the law of the victims of the murderers.

A special arrangement had to be made with the military authorities for preserving order. Detachments of infantry calvalry, and even of artillery were sent to assist the local gendarmes.

The execution was to take place between the door of the prison and the garden of the chief warden, and a cordon of police was stationed around this spot at an early hour to prevent the approach of the public. All evening the cafes swarmed with people. The local chansionnieres had composed sentimental and other rhymes for the occasion, and sold them to the crowd or sang them themselves to the accompaniment of guitars. The town seemed to be celebrating a public fair, and fireworks only were wanted to complete the scene.

The notorious prisoner, David, had become less boastful, but he nevertheless handed to the chief warder some sheets of paper, on which he said he had written his memoirs, and also a copy of his testament, in which he indulged in ironical jokes.

No execution had taken place at Valence for 20 years, the last one being that of a young man who had been a novice in a monastery and who had murdered the treasurer. Large sums of money were offered to the proprietors or tenants of the houses facing the prison gate, whence the execution could be seen. During the night a terrific storm broke out, and the rain came down in torrents, but this did not prevent the crowds from appearing in the streets, and at times threatening to break through the cordons of gendarmes that guarded the prison, and hindered anyone from approaching within 200 feet of the gates.

The guillotine was taken to the spot at 2 o'clock in the morning, and was rapidly erected under Deibler's superintendence. The thunder of the frequent flashes of lightning awakened the prisoners, and when they heard the shouts of the crowd outside the prison they concluded that their last hour had come. David jumped up from his bed at 2 o'clock, and, after rubbing his eyes, turned to the guard and said: "Oh, it is for today, is it not? Well, I shall go." He then quietly lay down again on his couch. The other two prisoners remained awake after this, expecting every moment to be called out of their cells.

When the magistrates entered David's cell at 5:30 o'clock in the morning he said to them in an insolent way: "It was not worth while keeping the news from me so long." He then stated that he had had a share in eight other crimes besides the ones for which he had been convicted.

WHISKY CONCERN WILL IMPROVE THIS YEAR'S GOODS

Has Taken Cooperage Contract Out of Hands of the Trust.

The whisky put on the market by the Buffalo Springs Distilling Co. promises this year to surpass even its high quality of the past, owing to the fact that the company has let the contract for its barrels to an independent cooperage concern, not in "the trust," the superintendent of which will personally supervise the making of all barrels intended for the Buffalo Springs company.

Nothing is more important to the proper aging of whisky than the barrels in which it is kept, and the officials of the Buffalo Springs Co. are congratulating themselves on the assurance of such good cooperage.

The unusual quality of the water used in making Buffalo Springs whiskies has won them wide reputation, and the demand for them is great, particularly for the nine-year-old.

ONE MAN HELPS TO SAVE THOUSANDS BY PURE MILK

Nathan Straus, Originator of Sanitary Feeding for Poor Babies, Began Work Eighteen Years Ago—Statistics Show Result.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Somewhere in the world, probably here in New York, there are a lot of youngsters 16 years old who owe their lives to Nathan Straus. Statistics furnished by Dr. Guilfoy, Registrar of Vital Statistics, show it. More than this, Dr. Guilfoy's statistics show that in the last 17 years 49,549 boys and girls who have survived their fifth birthday have been entitled to look upon Mr. Straus as a very practical godfather.

For it was the appalling death rate among infants less than 5 years old in this city in the summer months of 1891, 18 years ago, which led Mr. Straus to undertake the work in which he has persisted ever since of furnishing improved milk for babies.

In that year, during June, July and August, 5945 children died—were slain, Mr. Straus says—giving a death rate of 126.4 per 1000 per annum. In the corresponding three months of this year, according to Dr. Guilfoy's statistics, only 4114 infants under the age of 5 died—the figures are all for the Boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx—giving a death rate of only 52.5 per 1000 per annum, the lowest in the history of the city.

Had the death rate of 1891 prevailed the list would have mounted to 9787, so 5683 of these lives were saved the past season.

Mr. Straus began his work in 1892, in which year the death rate remained the same as in 1891. Comparing each year since then as to its own rate and the 1891 rate, the list of those saved mounts from 424 in 1893 to 5683, and gives the total saved as 49,549.

In this period 30,000 babies have come under the care of the Straus staff, 3,410,105 bottles of modified or pasteurized milk have been dispensed at less than half the cost, and 1,523,251 glasses of pasteurized milk have been sold; besides which mothers have been instructed in the feeding and care of badies during the summer months.

A score of cities here and abroad have followed in the course begun here by Mr. Straus. The figures just quoted are for 17 milk depots maintained by Mr. Straus. The distribution mounts in the aggregate to 26,288,772 bottles and 13,023,942 glasses, this work being supplemented also by some 50 other agencies in the task of reducing the death rate to the figures of last summer.

The work which Mr. Straus started in the old city of New York—Manhattan and The Bronx—has been taken up and carried on in Brooklyn by the Children's Aid Society, where Mr. Straus instituted the work also as he did in the founding of milk depots in other cities of the country and in Europe.

ACTS AS RANCH COOK

Declares He Was Marooned in England and Had to Stay There Two Years.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 20.—Sir Cecil Moon, in a suit filed against his wife, Catherine, demands an accounting for $61,000 which he turned over to her in 1900 upon her suggestion that by this means he could avoid ertravagances while in England, where the pair went for a visit. Sir Cecil declares that he has been allowed but $300 in the last two years, and that he has been compelled to do the most menial labor on the fine ranch which is their home.

At times, recites the Baronet, he has been forced to even do the cooking and other kitchen work. His allowance of money has been less than his wife paid the manager of the ranch, he declares in his complaint, while she has been touring the country with a string of racehorses which she enters in all Western events.

Sir Cecil says that in 1908 they went to England, his wife returned to America without notifying him, and he was compelled to remain there two years because he could not get the money to return.

Sir Cecil's marriage followed an illness through which he was nursed by the woman he now sues. The marriage was in 1898, but he did not turn over his property until two years later. His complaint gives the following amounts as having been allowed him by his wife: Seven hundred dollars in August, 1906; $450 from January to July, 1907, and from that time to the present $300.

Lady Moon's most recent appearance in the limelight was several months ago when she appeared as the champion of a man who had been arrested as a train robber suspect. He had worked for her and was released. The Moons live on a large ranch in Northern Colorado on which Lady Moon breeds horses for her racing string.

WOMAN'S THROAT CUT WHILE IN BED WITH DAUGHTER

Youth and Widow Held as Suspects in Mysterious Murder Attempt.

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 20.—Reuben Reed, a barber, was arrested here yesterday on suspicion of having entered the room of Mrs. George Staehl Sunday night and cut her throat with a razor. Reed, who is 18 years old, was found wandering in the vicinity of Mrs. Staehl's home. He appeared to be in a trance, and admitted he was within a block of Mrs. Staehl's house Sunday night. He admitted he had been in trouble in St. Joseph, Mo., Lincoln, Neb., and Cedar Rapids, Io. He will be examined by physicians today.

The police have taken into custody Mrs. Laura A. Sim, a young widow, and are holding her as a second suspect in the case. Mrs. Sim has been held by the police since 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

Since Mrs. Staehl was taken to the hospital Monday morning, Elsie, her daughter, who was in bed with her when her mother's throat was cut, has been at the home of Mrs. Sim. What evidence the police have against the woman is not known. She is a neighbor of the Staehl family, and when the daughter first discovered her mother's condition, she ran to the Sim house, and found Mrs. Sim there fully dressed. Mrs. Sim accompanied her home, and did what she could to aid the injured woman.

Mrs. Stahel is the wife of a brewery employe. She is young and attractive. Sunday at midnight someone entered her room and cut her throat with a white handled razor. The woman has a fair chance of recovery.

WOMAN SWEPT OVERBOARD AT SEA BEFORE HUSBAND'S EYES

Huge Wave Dashes Seamen and Passengers Against Rail and It Breaks.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 20.—Swept away by a great sea which washed the decks of the Canadian Australian liner Marama, which arrived here today, Mrs. T. Sampson of Brisbane was drowned before her husband's eyes during a gale when the liner was an hour out of Sydney. Many others had narrow escapes.

A steward was swept against the rail, clinging to two little girls rescued by him. A fireman suffered broken legs, and from 18 to 20 passengers and seamen were swept against the rail with such force that it broke and Mrs. Sampson was carried out to sea.

RUSH FOR BEAVER HATS CLEANS OUT THE MARKET

Fashion's Whim Creates a Scarcity of Certain Colors in Women's Headgear.

Fashion's whim has created a scarcity of beaver hats for women in St. Louis.

Beaver hats suddenly became stylish this fall after they had been practically ignored for several years.

Everybody wanted black or blue beavers and those colors were first to go out of the market. Gray beavers then became the choice until all of that color obtainable had been sold. Now the few browns and whites are offered as a substitute for those who must have beaver hats.

Wholesale stores say they can give no definite idea as to when they can get sufficient cloth to make enough hats to ease the market. The beaver cloth from which the hats are made is manufactured by a slow process. The cloth must be specially made, stretched and dried and then the beaver fur is blown on the narrow strips of cloth. It is then ready for the hat factories.

The One Tonic-Drink THAT'S DELICIOUS

It's one thing to want better health. It's another to take the usual tonics—bitter, biting, distasteful liquids, the mere thought of which turns you sick.

FER-MIL-LAC, totally different, has far better tonic effects. And the flavor is simply delicious.

The flavor alone gained for this drink a marvelous sale.

Yet it was not made expressly to sell at buffets and soda fountains.

Our sole aim in our two years of experiment was to produce a beverage that would regain health for many sick people and keep well people strong.

We aimed at an alluring flavor simply to make the drink palatable.

We succeeded so well that the drink became St. Louis' most popular drink.

What the Drink Is

It is simply whole milk, fermented and "processed" to make it digestible and delicious.

It contains all the food value of milk—all the butter fats, all the solids, but predigested.

It also contains a Bulgarian culture—a marvelous friendly germ—imported from the Pasteur Institute—a germ discovered by the institute's subdirector, Prof. Elie Metchinkoff.

What It Does

The germ was discovered in a soured milk used as a food in Bulgaria. Metchinkoff saw that many people there lived a hundred years in perfect physical and mental health. The reason he traced to this germ—the germ that we put into FER-MIL-LAC.

He found that it meant the destruction of a myriad dangerous disease germs that lurk in the intestines—the germs that cause sickness and hasten old age.

He found that the toxic poisons thrown off by these germs no longer got to the blood after the friendly germ arrived.

The blood became pure and clean.

Almost Immune from Disease

It is this cleansing of the blood—this stopping of toxic poisons—that most people need and that every one would be far better for.

That is how FER-MIL-LAC builds up the health. That's how it gets at the cause of a hundred petty and dangerous ills.

After one drinks a few glasses of FER-MIL-LAC he is almost immune from disease.

Drink It Three Times a Day

Order a family size trial bottle now, through any druggist or grocer.

See how you like this alluring drink.

Don't tell the family about the tonic effects.

Simply see what they say of the flavor.

Then serve it with every meal. When they've had it for a few weeks then let them know why it is that they feel better than when they began.

Cut out the memo. Serve the first bottle tonight.

OPERA IN PARIS NEXT VENTURE OF METROPOLITAN CO

Gatti-Casazza, Dippel and Toscanini to Direct the New Enterprise.

BEGINS NEXT MAY

Charles Dillingham, Lee Shubert or C. E. Ellis May Be Business Manager.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—It is announced by Managers Gatti-Casazza and Dippel of the Metropolitan Opera House that the Metropolitan Opera Company has made arrangements to give opera in Paris, beginning next May, and again in May and June of 1911. This announcement has given rise to a rumor that Giulio Gatta-Casazza may sever his connection entirely with the Metropolitan Opera Company here and devote himself entirely to the productions in Paris. The announcement of the Paris project follows:

The musical direction of the Italian season in Paris will be in the hands of Arthur Toscanini, who has accepted it at a considerable personal sacrifice. He had received an offer from the opera at Buenos Ayres of $40,000 for a season of 14 weeks, of which $10,000 in advance was placed in his hands. This unprecedented salary was voluntarily renounced by Sig. Toscanini in order that he might conduct the Paris season of the American company.

Will Present French and German Works.

Messrs. Gatti-Casazza and Dippel will be at the head of the executive committee at Paris. Both the Parisian projectors and the Metropolitan officials feel that the season is so certain of success that they are confident of repeating the season in the months of May and June, 1911, when German operas, sung in German, and, possibly, French operas, sung in French, will be presented as duplicates of the performances at the Metropolitan Opera House.

The rumor of the retirement of Gatti-Casazza finds color in the need of a business head of the opera company. It is said that the directors are not pleased because of a deficit last season of nearly [illegible]0,000, it is reported, and are determined that the Metropolitan's affairs shall be managed so as to make both ends meet at the close of every season. In spite of the heavy subscription up to date, which is expected to reach $800,000, the belief is general that this year's expense will be heavier than the last, as the Metropolitan now has two complete companies, more singers than ever gathered under one management before, and will present many new operas and operatic novelties.

Charles B. Dillingham, who directed an investigation into the business system of the Metropolitan Opera Company last spring, Lee Shubert and Charles E. Ellis, manager of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, have been mentioned as candidates for the position of business head.

METROPOLITAN'S MANAGER WHO RETURNS WITH ST. LOUIS STAR

OTIS SKINNER IN NOVEL ROLE NEXT DUE AT OLYMPIC

"Your Humble Servant" Presents Him as Tragedian of Strolling Company.

Charles Frohman will present Otis Skinner at the Olympic for a week's engagement, beginning next Sunday evening, in "Your Humble Servant," a comedy of theatrical life by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson.

The play's story gives Mr. Skinner the picturesque role of Lafayette Towers, the tragedian of an itinerant troupe of players. It is said to be of genuine dramatic interest, faithfully picturing the life of the strolling player, and rich in piquant dialogue, novel character-drawing, odd episodes and surprising situations. Miss Izetta Jewel, a talented young emotional actress, is Mr. Skinner's leading woman, and among others in the company are Isabel Richards, Charles B. Welles, Albert Garcia Andrews, Alfred Hudson Jr., Frank Bell, Edward Fielding, Walker Scott and Arthur Blake.

J. E. Dodson, in "The House Next Door," is this week's offering.

Grace Van Studdiford returns to the Century next week, opening Sunday night in the De Koven and Smith comic opera, "The Golden Butterfly," which was heard here last December and greatly liked. Its scenes are laid in and around Budapest, its story is romantic, its music tuneful, and the stage pictures, costumes and electric effects are particularly pleasing.

"Way Down East" is the current bill.

"The Gay Musician," a clever and melodius musical comedy by Julian Edwards, which won high favor at the Garrick last season, returns to Manager Fishell's playhouse for the week beginning next Sunday evening. Its score is much above the average in melodious quality and its story is distinctly entertaining and out of the ordinary. Among those appearing in this season's production are Texas Guinan, Lottie Kendall, Harry Benham, Richard Karl, Robert Gray, Margaret Crawford and W. F. Ryan.

John Mason in "The Witching Hour" is now at the Garrick.

Johnny and Emma Ray, in "King Casey," their irresistibly funny farce-comedy success, come to the American next week, their engagement opening with Sunday's matinee. The familiar story of Casey's side-splitting misadventures in a career that carries him from the position of a hotel fireman to the exalted station of monarch of a mythical island, is full of laughs from start to finish, and the two stars make the most of their opportunities. They will be well supported and a pleasing production is promised.

"The Great Divide" is this week's attraction.

Prof. Wallace's performing cockatoos, a novel act culminating in a scene in which a cockatoo fire department rescues other cockatoos from a burning building, is the feature of the Gem Theater bill this week. It is especially attractive to women and children. Motion pictures of important events all over the world are also shown.

"Egypt" will be the theme of the second Travelogue of the Burton Holmes series at the Odeon next Thursday afternoon and evening. Striking motion pictures [illegible] color views will illustrate Mr. Holmes' lecture, which is vital with the spirit of the ancient and modern charm of the land of the Pharaohs.

"At Piney Ridge," a favorite drama of life in the Tennessee mountains, will be the second week's offering of the new Imperial stock company, beginning next Sunday afternoon. A picturesque scenic production will be made, and the cast will include William Jossey, Adele Blood, Mary Hill, Frances J. Grandon, Florence Dorset and others whose initial work this week has already commended them to the favor of St. Louis playgoers.

"The Land of the Midnight Sun" is now on the Imperial stage.

Manager Garen will present at Havlin's next Sunday matinee and week the melodramatic offering, "A Workingman's Wife," said to be the best work of Walter Lawrence, who heads the list of successful playwrights in this class of drama. An excellent A. H. Woods production is promised at Havlin's, now the only St. Louis playhouse presenting traveling companies at its prices.

The thrilling melodrama, "On Trial for His Life," is this week's bill.

"The Top o' the World" dancers and the original famous "Collie Ballet" in "Kris Kringle's Dream" will be the New Columbia's headliners next week. Other features are George Felix, Lydia Barry and company, in "The Boy Next Door;" Mae Melville and Robert Higgins, eccentric character singing comedians, in "Just a Little Fun;" Monette, musical soloist, late special feature of "The Vassar Girls;" the Two Arkansas; the Woods and Woods Trio, in the original comedy pantomime, "An Elopement by Wire;" the Kemps, in "Going to Dahomey," and the Marvelous Bimbos.

"A Night in a Monkey Music Hall" and Charlotte Parry and company in the protean playlet, "The Comstock Mystery" head this week's bill.

"Morning, Noon and Night," the musical comedy that scored such a hit at higher-priced houses last season, comes to the Standard for the week beginning with next Sunday's matinee.

The Moulin Rouge Burlesquers are the current attraction.

"Die Gelbe Gefahr" ("The Yellow Peril"), a delightful musical play by Carl Laufs, from whose "Hochtourist" was made Francis Wilson's success, "The Mountain Climber," will be the offering of the German Stock Company at the Odeon next Sunday evening

Among the attractions coming to the Grand next week are the Fox and Foxie Circus; Cased, DeVerne and Walters, musical comedy entertainers; George B. Alexander, "the Happy Hobo," in new songs and stories; the Ashi Troupe, athletes; Weslyn and Barron, in their own songs; Beth Stone, singer and dancer, and Swayne and Ostman, novelty pantomimic artists.

Jean Clermont's Circus heads this week's bill.

The Columbia Burlesquers come to the Gayety for the week beginning with next Sunday's matinee. They will present two burlesques entitled "Vacation Days" and "The $10,000 Prize," and an especially clever bill of vaudeville novelties.

The "Dainty Duchess" is the present offering.

Isadore Duncan, the famous classic dancer, will appear with Walter Damrosch and the New York Symphony Orchestra at the Coliseum next Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Royal Arcanum Hospital Fund. Miss Duncan will lend her interpretative skill as a dancer to the orchestra's playing of Beethoven's Seventh Symphony, and will also appear in three Chopin numbers and a Grieg dance.

Painful Dyspepsia

A Form of Indigestion Caused by Gastric Irritation From Undigested Food in the Stomach.

No kind of dyspepsia is better marked than that known as "painful indigestion," and it is also a very common affection. Pain, generally of a dull character, is felt after meals, and along with the pain, soreness at the pit of the stomach often exists, and in some cases the soreness is permanent. The tenderness is commonly restricted to a spot in the middle line of the body, immediately below the breastbone.

It often extends upward under the bone, which consequently feels sore on pressure, or the tenderness is felt toward either side. This tenderness is commonly associated with an unpleasant feeling of heat—"a burning sensation"—as it is termed by some persons. There is also a "gnawing" and "dragging" as well as various other anomalous sensations complained of after taking food, and generally within an hour after eating.

As might be supposed, the intensity of the symptom is proportionate to the quantity and quality of the meal. When the stomach is empty, a sensation of craving or emptiness gives most trouble. This often causes a false appetite, which, by inducing the person to eat heartily aggravates the sufferings. Thirst generally causes much annoyance; heartburn, water-brash, acidity, nausea and headache are not infrequent attendants. The tongue is usually coated and from a mere inspection of this organ the condition of the stomach can often be correctly told.

It is a common error with persons who suffer from stomach pain caused by indigestion and gastric irritation, to use such drugs as chlorodyne, Hoffman's Anodyne, and other "pain killers" for its relief. Such treatment is a great mistake. While these drugs afford temporary relief to the dyspeptic pain, they have no effect whatever in removing the cause.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS remove the cause. By completely digesting all the food in the stomach, there is no further possibility of the occurrence of this disagreeable form of dyspepsia with its painful manifestations, and other concurrent symptoms. All of the irritation of the stomach-lining and stomach nerves as the result of the undigested food lying in that organ and undergoing fermentation and decomposition is quickly done away with.

But not only is the form of dyspepsia which is accompanied by pain cured through the use of these digestive tablets, but also every other form of indigestion, as there are many kinds in which stomach pain does not occur, but where there are many symptoms equally disagreeable, discomforting, disconcerting and discouraging.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain in a highly concentrated form, powerful anti-dyspeptic ingredients, which digest rapidly and thoroughly food of every kind, including proteids, nitrates, carbo-hydrates, etc. A single grain will disintegrate and digest 3000 grains of food.

Purchase a box from your druggist at once (price 50 cents), and get rid of the pain, discomfort and other disagreeable symptoms of dyspepsia. Also send us your name and address for free sample package. Address F. A. Stuart Co., [illegible]0 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

They go on sale tomorrow on the same basis.

CANNONISM AND ALDRICHISM.

William Allen White, who glories in his insurgency, calls attention to the fact that in every State, except one, that "furnished progressive Senators in the fight against Aldrichism and Cannonism, the direct primary is in vogue."

Here is not only vindication for the direct primary and apology for its faults and defects in form or in merit, but an inspiration for its perfection and a final argument in favor of the amendment to the Constitution which will provide that Senators be chosen by direct vote of the people.

Popular sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of the new method. Already 31 States have petitioned Congress to submit the amendment, although five of the petitions are not regular in form. The people are progressive, not reactionary. In the tariff discussion "insurgent" Senators won all the applause.

Cannonism and Aldrichism are not terms which carry reproach to the men from whose names the words are derived. There is no personal feeling in the conflict. The two men are merely the most conspicuous demonstrators of an obsolete policy which is abhorrent to democratic principles.

But the people have learned that Senators chosen by the Legislature frequently defy the wishes of their constituents and represent everything but the people. The Senate is loaded with men who couldn't secure votes enough at a popular election to win them a place in the tabulated columns of returns. Aldrich, Depew, Dick, Penrose, Burrows, Du Pont, Warner, Guggenheim, Lodge, Root and Stephenson are only a few of them. Owing nothing to the people, they pay nothing.

It is a trite argument that the Senate assumes responsibility when the House shirks. The plea that its rule permitting unlimited debate gives the opposition its chance, merely emphasizes the supineness of the House under the tyrannical rules which have robbed it of all right to the title of a deliberative assemblage. The contention brings Cannonism, which is the term descriptive of the Speaker's absolute domination over House affairs, and Aldrichism, which is the definition of the lack of responsibility to the people in the Senate, into the same classification, for both contribute to reactionary methods and results.

On this situation the tariff controversy let in no new light, but it emphasized, as it was never emphasized before, the complete difference between representatives who acknowlege their responsibility to the people and those who do not. The whole struggle in the last session of Congress was a great test and demonstration of the two systems of choosing. With the results before him, Mr. White speaks with assurance when he says Cannonism and Aldrichism are doomed.

OKLAHOMAN ORIGINALITY.

The Oklahoma Criminal Court of Appeals, Henry M. Furman, Presiding Judge, has shocked the conventional sense of all really good people by deciding that the omission of the word "the" before the words "State of Oklahoma" is a harmless error, and not sufficient to invalidate an indictment or information on which a prisoner has been convicted.

Fortunately, however, so many State appellate courts have taken the same view that the shock, thus mitigated, will probably not be fatal, although the Missouri Supreme Court does not agree with the Oklahomans.

The Oklahomans have been fiercely denounced as cranks, fanatics, lunatics, anarchists, etc. President Taft has said that the State was the home of crankeries. But there is another view: It is that they are progressive people who look forward and not backward, and think that public business may be improved by better law and methods, as well as private business, which today is the most progressive thing the world ever saw. The Oklahomans reason, if new ideas are good in private business, why not in the public business, in which all are interested?

Pursuing this faith, they have enacted a Constitution and passed several statutes which contain some surprisingly new things, and they have been fought inch by inch by all the sordid, selfish interests whose profit is in a parasitic adherence to old forms. No doubt the Oklahomans have made mistakes, but this is no reproach to the progressive habit of mind. Besides, even people who are not progressive make mistakes. The United States Supreme Court says Congress has made many mistakes, and men of high credit in statesmanship have said that the United States Supreme Court itself has made mistakes.

However, it is too late to cure the Oklahomans of their habit of mind and it is not entirely a misfortune that their judges are not mired in the mud of technicalities. President Taft and other critics might find better business than calling them names.

THE CORPORATION DEMAGOGUE.

In a speech at Bayonne, N. J., Col. Charles W. Fuller, an attorney for the Standard Oil Co., made several remarkable statements. He charged that the Standard Oil Co. had suffered abuse and persecution by "notoriety seekers." Among the notoriety seekers he classes Judge Landis of the United States Court. Concerning his decision he said:

> The abuse culminated when Judge Landis, in an attempt to advertise himself throughout the world, decreed the $29,000,000 fine.

Not satisfied with branding a Judge as a juggler of law for the purpose of advertising himself, he attacks the integrity of a United States court and charges a President of the United States with having guilty knowledge of the court's partiality and of having used that knowledge to gain his political ends. Speaking of the suit brought in this city for the dissolution of the Standard Oil corporation, he said:

> Theodore Roosevelt was anxious to have the case decided during his administration and it was sent to St. Louis to be tried because that court was supposed to be distinctly unfavorable to the company's interests.

No demagogue ever made a more vicious assault on the courts of the land. No anarchist could ask a more effective instrument to undermine public faith in courts and to overthrow law and order than this corporation attorney. It is amazing that a lawyer, himself an officer of court, having continual dealings with courts, depending upon and appealing to them for the protection of his corporation client for justice, should make such reckless charges against the integrity and impartiality of judges who are honored with high places on the bench. It is incredible that a lawyer who realizes the value to law and order of public confidence in the courts should seek to undermine that confidence by aspersing the motives and characters of judges.

Must we infer that Col. Fuller's experience with courts as attorney for the Standard Oil, has destroyed his own faith in the courts and has convinced him that judges decide cases not on the law and the evidence, but in accordance with unworthy influences, personal feeling or the bias of interest? Must we infer that if Judge Landis gave judgment against the Standard Oil for advertising purposes, Judge Grosscup of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the judgment because he favored the corporation? If the court at St. Louis was selected for the trial of the dissolution suit because it is unfavorable to the interests of the corporation, are we to believe that another court favorable to Standard Oil might have been found? Could Theodore Roosevelt or the attorneys of the Standard Oil predetermine the conclusion of the suit by picking the judges who were to try it? Where shall we find fairness and just judgment on the bench?

We have had contemptible demagogues of many kinds, but this man exemplifies a new variety, more contemptible and dangerous than the others—the corporation demagogue. But the corporation for whose favor he besmirches the courts will in the end pay high for his services.

FOR BETTER MAIL CARS.

J. T. Canfield, president of the National Postal Clerks' Association, is not the first to enter complaint of the flimsy and ramshackle character of the railroad mail cars. He said at the association's banquet Monday evening that one out of every twenty railway mail clerks were killed or injured in an accident last year

How Congress and the Postoffice Department justifies its neglect and indifference to the repeated complaints, submitted with proofs of accuracy, is incomprehensible. So bad is the situation in respect to the cars and the sanitary arrangements that a monthly publication devoted exclusively to protest against conditions has been started.

Without regard to the exactions of the service or the competency of the clerks, any force of men is entitled to better treatment, and the demand is more logical when there is no contention that the profits of the roads from the mail service are not very great. They are. The cars should be, as Mr. Canfield urged, of reinforced steel. In the exposed position they are given in trains, such construction would not only protect the clerks but the passengers also.

A MILLION FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

Thirty-five earnest and vigorous women chartered a tug, hired a brass band and went down New York Bay to meet the steamer bringing Lady Frances Cook hither from England. Lady Cook has been an ardent promoter of the equal suffrage movement for 40 years. She returns to her native land to aid the cause. She will reside in Washington during the winter. She will carry the quest to Congress and pour arguments in the ears of President Taft. She has brought a million dollars with her to use in the campaign.

Lady Cook will not have to run a gauntlet of policemen to get into the halls of Congress. She will not have to have herself shot out of a gun into the White House. She would have to resort to none of the wiles of the English suffragettes, even if she didn't have the million dollars. However, that million will smooth the way for her. Moreover, it is an astonishing earnest of the determination of the suffragettes. It is a most formidable argument in their behalf. It is more than the "wool growers of the West and the woolen manufacturers of the East" paid for congressional support and to make the attainment of their desires more important than "party solidarity." It is a sum great enough to bring political parties scraping and smirking at the feet of its possessors. Used with skill and discretion, such a sum has turned the course of political thought as defined in party platforms and exerted an amazing influence on congressional conduct.

These are shrewd women. Lady Cook is the wisest among them. She knows American politics and politicians. Would not a million dollars paid into a campaign fund to promote woman suffrage be honest money and spent to better purpose than any amount similarly paid to secure a wool schedule which burdens and oppresses a whole people?

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Socialism Stimulates Reform.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In his Western speeches, Taft has declared himself as favoring regulation of corporations, inheritance tax and other things which some of the Republican papers declare are "Socialistic." The purpose of this talk is to end Socialism by relieving the situation to some degree, and Taft expressly says he is not a Socialist. But the Socialist demand has made the Republican party even ready to grant some immediate demands, which shows that the surest way to secure concessions from the masters is to advocate full Socialism.

Socialism is "the Good Samaritan" coming, not only to take care of the robbed and wounded victims of capitalism, but to pursue the thieves to their rendezvous and scourge them into the open, where it will no longer be possible for them to ply their nefarious trade. STUDENT.

Stop "Third Degree" by Law.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Isn't there some way of putting a stop to the "third degree"? I think our citizens and those of other cities should form a Humane Society for human suspects. Who would be cruel enough to keep a dog or cat awake 98 hours? If a person was found doing such a thing they would be considered crazy. If my husband was an officer and would do such a contemptible thing I certainly would not live with him. I know there are men on St. Louis' force who would resign rather than be so brutal. I have always thought that human beings were just a little higher than animals, but it seems from this and other cities that they are not. Many of us know the torture of lying awake all night from worry or illness. Then how much more terrible is it not to be allowed to go to sleep when you are sleepy. If a few more people who read your paper feel as I do, I believe there could be a law passed prohibiting their use of the so-called "third degree." I have read your editorials on the subject and I wish to tell you that they were just right. MRS. M. E. R.

Humane Work in New Orleans.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

My attention was called a few days ago to an article in your paper concerning the good work of the Louisiana Humane Society, whose headquarters are in New Orleans. Having attended the American Humane Association convention held there last November, I think I can give some reasons for the excellent work done. The Humane Society of New Orleans keeps its work constantly before the public by means of the press and posting cards in public places. They have an agent whose only duty is to solicit members and subscriptions and to induce merchants to place drinking fountains before their places of business. Last year they had a membership of 858. Of this number 305 are ladies and children. They have a building of their own which was donated by one of the ex-presidents. This building contains a lethal chamber for small animals, also a stable where horses disabled or taken from work may be sent.

The New Orleans society has the financial and moral support of the best citizens. That which impressed me most, however, was the enthusiasm and pride the secretaries and agents showed in their performance of duty. EMMA T. KIESELHORST.

Perkins and the Truant Law.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Benjamin Perkins of Alton is evidently a foolish and obstinate man. But there is a principle involved in his case, and that is the question of what the State ought to do if it interferes at all with a man's right to rule his family. If it insists that he send all his children to school, should it not insist also that he be paid enough to provide them with decent clothing in which to go to school? They will be unmercifully "guyed" by their companions if they are in rags. And $9 a week, which is what Perkins got for the very arduous and dangerous work of quarrying, is not enough to keep a family in decent clothing. Perkins may have been improvident, but that does not show the principle in interfering with the family as far as sending children to school, and leaving the family alone as regards decent wages for the bread-winner, is a right principle. It is Socialistic to force children into school; why not give us the additional Socialism of providing by law for a minimum wage that would mean decent clothing for the school children? A FATHER.

Granting of Franchises.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Our Board of Freeholders and our Municipal Assembly are worried as to terms on which public utility franchises should be granted. The principle that should underlie all such franchises is simple and easy of application.

There are two interests concerned; the interest of the people and the interest of capital. The people, having control of the situation, are in position to make their interest paramount, and should do so. Capital is entitled to a fair return for its investment. Any excess of profit beyond such fair return should accrue to the people, who furnish the field, and give the permission for capital to work. No class of investment is safer and surer than public utility stocks and bonds. Many hundreds of millions of dollars are invested in them on an average basis of 5 per cent. If it were provided, then, by our Charter and by rulings of the Municipal Assembly that after a fixed percentage of return to capital, all excess profits should go to the people, justice would be done both interests.

I assume that no charter should be for more than thirty years, as we have no right to bind the unborn by our ideas and contracts. Allow capital 10 per cent dividends during the first five years, 8 per cent during the second five years, and 6 per cent for the balance of the term of charter. These dividends to be non-cumulative. All excess profits to go to the city. The city to fix the pay of all salaried officers and to regulate the account keeping.

Such an agreement would be most liberal to capital, for after the first year of successful operation the stock would double in market value. It would tend directly to putting up best possible plants, and furnishing best service, and at lowest prices to the people, as the more capital employed the better for it. Our present plans of granting franchises makes poor service give the best returns to capital, as witness our transit company of today. There is nothing chimerical about the scheme. Massachusetts has for years taken the dividends of its steam railroads in excess of 8 per cent. Cleveland takes excess of 6 per cent from its street railroads. W. S. STUYVESANT.

JOURNEYMEN KINGS.

From the New York World.

Why should the Duke of Abruzzi accept the crown of Greece? Are there not other mountains to climb?

The more energetic a third-rate king is the worse he fares. Bismarck warned Karl of Roumania, "At least it will be an experience." It was. After Karl had worked wonders as a drillmaster and had led the Russo-Roumanian allies at Plevna the big powers took away the greater Roumania he had earned, like candy from a baby.

Greece itself is a caution. Bavarian Otho tried to rule it in the old king fashion and the people drove him out. George I, an amiable old gentleman from the great Danish brood, has nursed his job for years by being good as the big powers define it, but he has worn out his welcome. His successor will not be received with the pathetic eagerness that greeted Karl and Alexander. The Greek army needs a master, but it does not want one; rather it wishes a dummy director to pose while the Pretorians run the country.

That sort of desk work would not suit an active man like Abruzzi, accustomed to open air employment. If he became a real king the powers would spank him; if he did not, the army chiefs would bulldoze him. In either case there is no fame in it. Mountain climbing is more satisfactory. And yet—just as a "sporting proposition"—the rest of the world would like to see what he will make of it.

REMINISCENT.

So Mr. Taft is to be in St. Louis next Monday on the last leg of his Western trip.

What with the North Pole, we had forgotten that he was on a trip.

It reminds me of the first time I saw Buffalo Bill's show. There was a mile racetrack around the field, and when we were all seated the master of ceremonies stepped on a barrel and said:

"Now, gentlemen and boys, before the Wild West exhibition begins, we will start the burro race."

At that, two youths riding burros appeared on the track. They were lined up, the starter fired his six-shooter, and with a couple of boards laid on behind by vengeful cowboys, they were off—in a walk.

The Wild West show followed. It continued for two hours. Finally there remained only the grand finale in which the cowboys were to rescue the stage coach.

The master of ceremonies reappeared on his barrel.

"Friends," he said, "please remain in your seats after the battle. The burros are coming."

MISSOURI.

A Missourian at a banquet said: "If all the chickens in Missouri were one rooster, he could straddle the Rocky Mountains like a Colossus, and crow until he shook the rings from the planet Saturn. If all the hogs raised in Missouri were one hog, he could plant his hind feet on the soil of Cuba, his fore feet on the Isthmus of Panama and with one root of his huge snoot dig a sea-level canal from ocean to ocean."—Monroe City (Mo.) News.

And if all the mules of Missouri were one mule, and it had kicked this orator where it would have done the most good while he was making the State ridiculous with this sort of boasting, it would have helped.

SUGGESTION.

To make the comedy complete, couldn't Mr. Taft let Uncle Joe Cannon issue the regular Thanksgiving proclamation this year?

With Col. Hearst running for office again, Col. Bryan must be getting restless.

E. H.—Frank James never served a term in any penitentiary. When he surrendered to Gov. Crittenden in October, 1882, he told him that he wanted to be prosecuted for any charge which the people of Missouri had against him. He was tried in Gallatin in 1883. The jury, after a long and hard fought trial, acquitted him.

TANGLED.—The law requires that within 20 days after Assessor has left notice return of personal and all other property owned June 1 shall be made by taxpayers. If return is not so made, property may be assessed at double its value. Payment of taxes may be made from Sept. 1 to Jan. 1, after which a penalty of 1 per cent, increased every month, is added.

P. A.—The most important sections of the Civil Rights act were in 1883 declared by the U. S. Supreme Court to be unconstitutional. Civil Rights bill of March 1, 1875, provides that blacks shall not be distinguished from whites by innkeepers, teachers or officers of schools, theater managers and common carriers. As restaurants, soda fountains and bars are not inns, we do not see that they are compelled to sell to whites and blacks alike.

PORK.—Making pork sausage quickly: With a small food grinder enough pork sausage may be prepared in a few moments to serve for an ordinary family. Buy a few slices of fresh pork from a rather lean shoulder and a small piece of tenderloin. Remove the rind and cut the meat into strips and run through the food grinder. Season with salt, pepper and a sprinkling of sage and form into rolls, patting them down very compactly. Have the frying pan hot and fry to a nice brown.

C. E. C.—It is considered bad form to order very much for an after-theater supper. A salad, a bird, or creamed oysters, with coffee or wine and ice constitute the supper, or a welsh rarebit or lobster a la Newberg may be ordered. With the former wine is usually ordered, but no ice. It is not correct to put contents of side dishes on the plate with the meat. They should be eaten from the plates in which they are served. The gentleman should order for the lady and should serve her meat. When a salad is ordered the lady usually serves.

WOULD LIKE TO KNOW.—White spots on nails are caused by pressure or blows upon the roots of the soft nail before it passed out of the cuticle and hardened into a horny covering. Do you push away the cuticle from the bottom of your nails with a sharp instrument? Do you practice on the piano or ply the typewriter when the nails project beyond the balls of the finger tips, thus jarring and loosening them from the flesh before they are formed? Any of these things will produce white lines or spots. Once made, you must wait patiently until they pass out of sight with the growth of the nail [illegible].

THE WIDOW SAYS:

Chaperons Are Persons on Whom We May Lay Responsibility for Our Social Sins.

Written for the Post-Dispatch

By HELEN ROWLAND.

HELEN ROWLAND

"I'VE had such a dreadful shock, Mr. Travers," said the Widow, as she made room beside her on the stair for the Bachelor. "The Caraway girls have just asked me to CHAPERON them tonight, because their mother couldn't come. Am I really beginning to look proper and passee and—all that?" she added, pathetically, snapping open her vanity case and scrutinizing her tip-tilted nose in its mirror.

"Gracious!" exclaimed the Bachelor. "Don't you want to look proper and—and all that?"

"Don't be horrid!" pouted the Widow. "You know what I mean. You may BE almost anything in this world if you don't look it and look like almost anything if you don't happen to be it. For instance, if you're a millionaire, you can go about in dowdy clothes and half-soled shoes and be miserly about your tips; but if you're poor you have got to dress beyond your income and fling your money about. If you're young you can wear black bonnets and unbecoming frocks; but if you're old you have to resort to pinks and blues and French corsets and piquant hats. It's rather discouraging to have other women beginning to be NICE to me. The first sign of old age in a woman is when other women commence treating her pleasantly. In a few years," she added with a sigh, "I shall be able to inspire nothing but respect."

"Never mind!" soothed the Bachelor, comfortingly. "That won't happen so long as you continue to wear your hair in that fluffety, ruffety way and powder your nose and flirt"—

"Mr. Travers!" broke in the Widow coldly. "That's just what is worrying me. It's against my principles to be a chaperon, because they're so encouraging to flirtation"—

"Encouraging!" The Bachelor almost dropped his cigar.

"Demoralizing!" asserted the Widow. "It's perfectly easy for a nice girl to conduct herself properly and discreetly when nobody is watching her, and her manners are her own responsibility. But the moment she can lay her sins on the shoulders of a chaperon she feels absolutely no restraint. It's like spending money when you don't have to earn it."

"Or taking a drink when you have a wife to blame it on," put in the Bachelor.

"Yes," agreed the Widow. "I never could understand why a wife always yearns to become the guardian of her husband's morals, considering that she merely takes the responsibility off him. Besides, it makes anything so much more fascinating when you feel that somebody is trying to keep you away from it. It's the mustn't touches that the babies always yearn to play with, and the articles marked 'Don't Handle' that we can't keep our fingers off of"—

"And the women we ought not to marry that we always want to marry"—

"And the things the doctor has forbidden us that we always hunger for"—

"Perhaps that's the real mission of the chaperon," suggested the Bachelor, cheerfully. "You're just the 'Don't Handle' signs to make us yearn for the girls and long to marry them. You give them the glamor of the unattainable; you make them 'mustn't touches.' And that reminds me," he added, thoughtfully, "of the Caraway girls. I wonder what they're doing now."

"Good heavens!" exclaimed the Widow, "I had forgotten all about them. I suppose they have been carrying on outrageously—and I shall be blamed. I'll go and find them at once."

"Well, perhaps," agreed the Bachelor, "that would be better than having them find YOU—here."

"The saddest part of being a chaperon," sighed the Widow, "is that you have to be so very punctilious yourself."

"That's the real moral effect," rejoined the Bachelor. "Chaperonage is good for the chaperon. One always becomes so virtuous the moment he or she begins to feel responsible for other people's morals."

"Yes. But I really must go," sighed the Widow, starting to rise.

At that moment her heel caught in a ruffle and she lost her balance and would have fallen if she had not been caught on the Bachelor's ready arm.

"Oh, there you are!" exclaimed the Caraway twins, suddenly appearing through the portieres and trying not to look shocked at the vision before them. "We've been looking for you ever since half-past twelve. Really, Mrs. Trevelyan, a chaperon is a terrible responsibility."

EVERYBODY'S.

AT dinner the professor of history was seated between two young ladies, who, in accordance with their training in the art of conversation, sought to draw him out upon the subject in which he was most interested. They did not meet with much success; his answers were short—"Yes," "Oliver Cromwell," "No," "1492," and the like. Finally one of them in desperation ventured:

"Professor, we were wondering only this afternoon, and none of us could remember: How many children did Mary, Queen of Scots, have?"

This was too much. "Madam," said the professor, facing her with squelching dignity, "I am not a scandalmonger."

Simple.

They had been making hay while the sun shone, and when they had finished a high haystack the farmer's boy shouted from the top, "Say, mister, how am I goin' to get down?"

The farmer considered the problem, and finally solved it:

"O, jest shet your eyes an' walk around a bit!"

Where Roosevelt Is.

"Over 5000 elephants a year go to make our piano keys," observed the star boarder who had been reading the scientific notes in a patent medicine almanac.

"Sakes alive," exclaimed the landlady. "Ain't it wonderful what some animals can be trained to do!"

Good Place for Camels.

Gov. Glasscock of West Virginia, while traveling through Arizona, noticed the dry, dusty appearance of the country.

"Doesn't it ever rain around here?" he asked one of the natives.

"Rain?" The native spat. "Rain? Why, say, pardner, there's bullfrogs in this yere town over 5 years old that ain't learned to swim yet."

Despotism of the Press.

"Owing to the overcrowded condition of our columns, a number of births and deaths are unavoidably postponed this week."

A Distinction and a Definition.

"Sure an' what the divvil is a chafindish?" asked Pat.

"Whist, man," answered Nora, "it's a fryin-pan thot's got into society."

BY MEREDITH NICHOLSON, Author of "The House of a Thousand Candles."

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

Thomas Ardmore sees a girl wink at him from a passing train. He finds that she is Miss Geraldine Dangerfield, daughter of the Governor of North Carolina. Ardmore's friend, Prof. Griswold of the University of Virginia, becomes interested in Barbara Osborne, daughter of the Governor of South Carolina. The Governors have disappeared after a public quarrel in a convention at New Orleans, and their daughters are practically acting for them in the capitals of their respective states. Bill Appleweight, a notorious outlaw operating on the border of North and South Carolina, is politically powerful. Each Governor wants him suppressed, but is afraid to move against him. Ardmore and Griswold as advisors to the daughters, exchange impudent telegrams in the names of the Governors, and do not know of each other's interest in the matter. Ardmore goes with Miss Dangerfield and his sister, Mrs. Atchison, to his estate (Ardsley), which is in the Appleweight country, and in both states. Griswold and Miss Osborne go to Turner, which is near Ardsley. Each party hopes to capture Appleweight and incarcerate him in a jail on the enemy's side of the border, thus shifting responsibility. Griswold organizes Appleweight's enemies and captures him, but the prisoner is mysteriously taken from them by Miss Dangerfield, who finds him tied to his horse in the forest. She refuses to release him until he has guided her to Ardsley. When they arrive there Appleweight is recognized by one of Ardmore's detectives and is held. Ardmore locks up in a corn crib a man who says he is Governor of South Carolina. Militia of both states gathers on the borders. Adjutant-General Gillingwater, who is Miss Dangerfield's fiance, goes to the front, but flees in fright. Appleweight is taken secretly to Turners, the county seat of Mingo County, North Carolina, by Ardmore, Miss Dangerfield and party and locked in the jail there. The militia of the two states are nearly in conflict at the Raccoon, where a white flag is observed by Ardmore coming from the opposite bank.

The Flag of Truce.

THE bearer of the basket gained the North Carolina shore and strode rapidly toward Miss Dangerfield, Ardmore and Col. Daubenspeck. He handed the trifle of a basket to the Colonel, who gazed upon its contents for a moment with unspeakable rage. The color mounted in his neck almost to the point of apoplexy, and his voice bellowed forth a oath so bleak, so fraught with peril to the human race, that Jerry shuddered and turned away her head as from a blast of flame. The Colonel cast the wicker basket from him with a force that nearly tore him from his saddle. It struck against a tree, spilling upon the earth six small, hard, bright green apples.

"My letter," said the emissary soberly, "is for Mr. Thomas Ardmore, and, unless I am mistaken, you are that gentleman."

Ardmore seized a long envelope which the man extended, tore it open and read:

> Thomas Ardmore, Esq.,
> Acting Governor of North Carolina,
> In the Field.
> Sir—As I understand the present unhappy differences between the states of North and South Carolina, they are due to a reluctance on the part of the Governor of North Carolina to take steps toward bringing to proper punishment in North Carolina an outlaw named Appleweight. I have the honor to inform you that that person is now in jail at Kildare, Dilwell County, N. C., properly guarded by men who will not flinch. If necessary I will support them with every South Carolinian able to bear arms. This being the case, a casus belli no longer exists, and to prevent the effusion of blood I beg you to cease your hostile demonstrations on our frontier.
> Our men seized a few prisoners during the night, and I am willing to meet you to arrange an exchange on the terms proper in such cases.
> I am, sir, your obedient servant,
> HENRY MAINE GRISWOLD
> For the Governor of South Carolina.

"The nerve of it! The sublime cheek of it!" exclaimed Ardmore, though the sight of Griswold's well-known handwriting had shaken him for the moment.

"As a bluffer your little friend is quite a wonder," was Jerry's only comment when she had read the letter.

Ardmore promptly wrote on the back of Griswold's letter this reply:

> Henry Maine Griswold, Esq.,
> Assistant Professor of Admiralty,
> Camp Buzzard, S. C.
> Sir—Appleweight is under strong guard in the jail at Turner Courthouse, Mingo County, S. C. I shall take pleasure in meeting you at Ardsley at 5 o'clock this afternoon for the proposed exchange of prisoners. To satisfy your curiosity the man Appleweight will be produced there for your observation and identification.
> I have the honor, sir, to remain, with high regard and admiration, your obliged and obedient servant,
> THOMAS ARDMORE,
> Acting Governor of North Carolina.

"Putting 'professor' on that will make him crazy," remarked Ardmore to Jerry.

The messenger departed, but recrossed the Raccoon shortly with a formal note agreeing to an armistice until after the meeting proposed at Ardsley.

"Col. Daubenspeck, you may withdraw your men and go into camp until further orders," said Jerry, and the notes of the bugle singing the recall rose sweetly upon the air.

"By George," said Ardmore, as he and Jerry rode away, "we'll throw it into old Grissy in a way that will jar the professor. But when it comes to the exchange of prisoners, I must tell the boys to bring up that chap I locked in the corn-crib. I had clean forgotten him."

"I don't think you mentioned him, Mr. Ardmore, but I suppose he's one of the Appleweight ruffians."

"Undoubtedly," replied Ardmore, whose spirits had never been higher, "though the fellow was not without his pleasant humor. He insisted with great vigor that he is the Governor of South Carolina."

"I wonder"—and Jerry spoke wistfully—"I wonder where papa is!"

"Well, he's not in the corn-crib; be sure of that."

"Papa looks every inch the statesman," replied Jerry proudly, "and in his frock-coat no one could ever mistake him for other than the patriot he is."

CHAPTER XIX.

In the Red Bungalow.

"WHAT do you think," cried Mrs. Atchison, glowing before Jerry and Ardmore on their return; "we have a new guest!"

"In the coal cellar?" inquired her brother.

"No, in the blue room adjoining Miss Dangerfield's! And what do you think! It is none other than the daughter of the Governor of South Carolina."

"Oh, Nellie!" gasped Ardmore.

"Miss Orborne's presence is not only agreeable to me, Mrs. Atchison," responded Jerry, "but I shall join you in welcoming her."

A few minutes before 5 the flag of North Carolina was hung from the wide veranda of the bungalow. At the door stood an armed militiaman. Col. Daubenspeck had been invited to be present, and he appeared accompanied by several other officers in full uniform.

At the end of a long table Jerry Dangerfield sat with her arms folded. She wore, as befitting the occasion, a gray riding-dress and a gray felt hat perched a trifle to one side.

She bowed coldly to Griswold, whose hand, as he surveyed the room and glanced out at the flag that fluttered in the doorway, went to his mustache with that gesture that Ardmore so greatly disliked; but Griswold again bowed gravely to his adversaries.

"Miss Dangerfield, and gentlemen," began Griswold, with an air of addressing a supreme tribunal, "I believe this whole matter depends upon the arrest of one Appleweight, a well-known outlaw of North Carolina"—

"I beg your pardon"—

"It is for me to ask your pardon, Miss Dangerfield! Let us agree that this person is an unworthy citizen of any State, and proceed. It has been your endeavor to see this man under arrest in South Carolina, thus relieving North Carolina or her chief executive of responsibility for him. We, on our side, have used every effort to lodge Appleweight in jail on your side of the State line. Am I correct?"

Jerry nodded affirmatively.

"Then, Miss Dangerfield, and gentlemen, I must tell you that you have lost your contention, for Appleweight spent last night in jail at Kildare."

"There are not two Bill Appleweights," remarked Col. Daubenspeck. "I assure you that the real criminal spent last night in jail at Turner Courthouse, guarded by trustworthy men, and we are able to produce him."

"The quickest way to settle this point, Prof. Griswold, is by bringing in your man," remarked Ardmore icily.

At a nod from Col. Daubenspeck the orderly at the door ran off to where Cooke and the prisoner waited.

Steps sounded on the veranda and all rose as Cooke appeared in the door, leading his handcuffed prisoner, who stood erect and glared at the company in gloomy silence.

"This man," said Ardmore, "we declare to be Bill Appleweight, alias Poteet. I ask you, sir"—he addressed the prisoner—"to state whether you are not known by one or both of these names?"

The man nodded his head and grumbled a reluctant affirmative.

"Prof. Griswold," Ardmore went on, "the gentleman in charge of the prisoner is Roger Cooke, for many years in the secret service of the United States. He now conducts a private agency and is in my employ. Mr. Cooke, I will ask you whether you identify this man as Appleweight?"

"There is no doubt of it whatever. I have known him for years. I once arrested him for moonshining and he served a year in the penitentiary as the result of that arrest. You will pardon me, sir," Cooke continued, addressing Griswold directly, "but this is undoubtedly the man you had yourself captured at Mount Nebo Church two night ago, but who was taken from you, as you may not know, by Miss Geraldine Dangerfield. She was lost in the woods and came upon the captive much to her own surprise."

Griswold lifted his brows in amazement and turned toward Jerry.

"If that is the case, Miss Dangerfield, I salute you! I am sorry to confess, however, that I did not myself see the man who was captured by my friends at the church, owing, it appears, to Miss Dangerfield's prompt and daring action, and the regrettable cowardice of my men. I want to say to you, gentlemen, in all frankness, that I am greatly astonished at what you tell me. Our prisoner is about the same height as this man, has the same slight stoop in the shoulders, and the same short beard; but there the resemblance ends."

"Now that you cannot deny that we have the real Appleweight," began Jerry, "who is, you must remember, a prisoner of the State of South Carolina, and must be returned to the Mingo County Jail at once, I think we may as well look at your prisoner, Prof. Griswold. He may be one of Mr. Appleweight's associates in business; but as we are interested only in the chief culprit, the identity of the man you hold is of very little interest to us."

One of Griswold's retinue ran off to summon the prisoner, who was guarded by half a dozen soldiers near at hand.

At once a man was thrust into the room, a tall man, with a short, dark beard and slightly stooping shoulders. The strong light at his back made it difficult for the people grouped about the table to see his face clearly, but the air somehow seemed charged with electricity, and all bent forward, straining for a sight of the captive. As he stood framed in the doorway his face was slowly disclosed to them, and there appeared to be a humorous twinkle in his eyes. Before anyone spoke, he broke out in a hearty laugh. Then a cry rose piercingly in the quiet room—a cry of amazement from the lips of Jerry Dangerfield, who had taken a step forward.

"Oh, papa!" she cried.

"The Governor!" roared Col. Daubenspeck, leaping across the table.

"It's Gov. Dangerfield!" shouted half a dozen men in chorus.

How to Make Better Cough Syrup Than You Can Buy.

A full pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time—can be made by the recipe given below in five minutes, for only 54 cents. Simple as it is, there is nothing better at any price. It usually stops a deep-seated cough in twenty-four hours, and is a splendid household remedy for whooping cough, colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, etc.

Take a pint of granulated sugar, add ½ pint warm water and stir about 2 minutes. Put 2½ oz. Pinex in a pint bottle and fill up with syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. It keeps perfectly and the taste is pleasing.

The chemical elements of pine which are very healing to membranes, are obtained in high proportion in Pinex, the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract. None of the weaker pine preparations will work with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or can easily get it for you.

Strained honey can be used instead of the syrup, and makes a very fine honey and pine tar cough syrup.—ADV.

Get genuine Fels-Naptha soap. Imitations are worthless.

When you see the Fels-Naptha red and green wrapper at your grocer's, don't pass it along with the thought that it simply contains a cake of laundry soap, but remember it also contains a better and easier way of washing—a way that makes the clothes cleaner and whiter and saves them.

Buy it—and try it.

When you take the wrapper off, don't throw it away. Pin it up over the tub, inside out, and wash by the printed directions on the back. These directions are so simple, that, if it is your first experience with Fels-Naptha soap, you will hardly believe that a washing can be so easily done.

But it can be—is done by more than a million women every week—and will be done by you, if you stick to the easy directions.

Let us emphasize just one part of the directions: Use lukewarm or cold water, never hot.

Accept only the soap in the red and green wrapper.

ONSO, ILL FROM FEAR, KEEPS HIMSELF SECLUDED

pain's King Suffers Sleeplessness and Loss of Appetite Since Ferrer's Execution.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Chronicle's Madrid correspondent in a mail dispatch dated Sunday, says:

"Since the news was received at the palace of the first demonstrations against King Alfonso, he has a worn and dejected appearance, and fears are expressed that his health may be affected. I am assured that the King already is suffering from sleeplessness and loss of appetite.

"Notwithstanding statements to the contrary and the apparent tranquility that reigns over Madrid and the provinces, to the careful observer it is but sham. No one acquainted with the situation will deny that the anarchist element is actively preparing to avenge Ferrer's death. Threatening letters are pouring in daily at the palace and the official residence of the ministers. The latter are escorted by large bodies of detectives.

"The King himself has abandoned his daily outings and he keeps in seclusion at the royal palace.

"The censor has doubled the stringency of his methods and it is almost absolutely impossible to send any news unfavorable to the Government by wire."

Gin for Backache.

Backache Means Kidneyache—Newly Perfected Prescription Given for Kidneys and Bladder.

Gin, in some form, has been known as a kidney and bladder remedy for years. It is said, by excellent authority that it reaches its highest efficiency as a remedy for weak or disordered kidneys and bladder when used in the following formula: "Six ounces good pure gin, one-half ounce Murax compound, one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu." These ingredients can be bought and mixed at home, or any good prescription druggist can put up the formula. For best results take one to two teaspoonfuls three times a day, after each meal.

Such symptoms as backache, rheumatic pains in the joints, soreness in hip or groin, dizziness, etc., should be attended to promptly, as Chronic rheumatism, Bright's disease and diabetes are apt to develop. * * *

GOVERNMENT IS DENOUNCED AS SPAIN'S FRIEND

Resolutions Adopted by Ferrer Meeting in New York Censure the United States.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Protestors against the execution of Francesco Ferrer crowded Carnegie Hall last night. The protest meeting, held under the auspices of the International Labor Aid Conference, a body composed of delegates from various labor organizations and societies, including the Central Federated Union of New York, drew a bigger assemblage than even the promoters had expected.

All the speakers bitterly denounced King Alfonso and the ruling classes in general. Their remarks brought forth repeated outbursts of enthusiasm from the many Socialists and anarchists present, but policemen, who were stationed back of the aisles and in the galleries to check any disturbance, had no occasion to act.

Charles Edward Russell, magazine writer, presided, and in his speech abused King Alfonso unmercifully, calling him a descendant of a long line of lunatics and imbeciles.

Russell took occasion also to protest against the action of the police in forbidding Emma Goldman to speak in Philadelphia.

A resolution was adopted denouncing the execution of Ferrer as an act of medieval barbarism, and adding:

Joshua Wauhope leaned on a reading stand covered with the Stars and Stripes, and denounced the American Government. Congress, President Taft and everything connecting with the Government were attacked.

"We feel deeply ashamed and humiliated by our own Government's maintenance of diplomatic relations with the Russian and Spanish governments, which have by their deeds placed themselves outside the pale of civilization."

CRANE CASE HAD A PARALLEL IN TIME OF MONROE

Minister to Mexico Accused Sick Official on Leaving Washington.

SHATTERED HIS CAREER

Sergeant-at-Arms of House Overtook Appointee and Brought Him Back.

The experience of Charles R. Crane with the mission to China recalls the case of the almost forgotten Ninian Edwards, who started out as United States Minister to Mexico but never reached the capital of the sister Republic.

Edwards had been United States Senator from Illinois, and Monroe, near the close of his second term, gave him the Mexican mission. The country was then nearing the end of the so-called era of good feeling and Edwards had been contributing his share to the political discord of that curious time by writing letters signed "A. B." in a Washington newspaper published in the interest of Calhoun. These letters accused William H. Crawford, Secretary of the Treasury, of corrupt practices in office, and they were intended to kill off Crawford as a candidate for President. Calhoun himself was the subject of similar attacks instigated by Crawford, but he easily disproved them.

Attack on Sick Official.

Edwards arranged that after he had started for his post in Mexico the "A. B." letters should be sent to the House of Representatives as the basis of impeachment proceedings against Crawford, and it was then that the authorship of the letters became known. In transmitting them to the Speaker of the House, Edwards avowed himself their author and added to the charges already made public others that were sufficient as ground of impeachment.

Crawford at the time lay ill at home, having been attacked with paralysis about four months earlier, in September, 1823, and left in such condition that he transacted much of his business as Secretary of the Treasury by proxy. The attack in the House had been made by Edwards at such a time as made it difficult for Crawford to prepare a defense before the political campaign of 1824 was finished.

Forced From National Politics.

His friends rallied to his aid and asked that Edwards be fetched back. The House accordingly sent the Sergeant-at-Arms after the Minister and he was overtaken near New Orleans. He came back 1500 miles to Washington in the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Crawford meanwhile had got together a mass of evidence on his side and Edwards completely failed to make good his charges, so that a committee of which Daniel Webster and John Randolph were members unanimously reported in vindication of the accused Secretary.

Although Edwards had had a long, honorable and successful public career as a judge in Kentucky and as Territorial Governor of Illinois and then as Senator, this affair was his ruin in national politics. It was known that Crawford had fought two duels and killed his man in one of them and maybe this fact was taken into account by the public in estimating the quality of Edwards' performance in making an attack upon a physically disabled man and hastening to a distant land just when his share in the matter should become known.

At any rate, says the New York Sun, such a storm of contempt broke upon him that he resigned his appointment to Mexico and returned to Illinois. He was then under 50, but he took no further part in national politics, though he had a sort of vindication at home by his election as Governor of Illinois. He died less than 10 years after this affair. Crawford, the invalid, outlived him by about a year.

OLEANDER WILL HAVE RIGHT OF WAY; OTHERS KEEP BACK

Code of Rules for President's River Tour Forbids Vessels to Pass Flagship.

One of the busiest men in the service of the United States just now is Commander Edwin H. Tillman, U. S. N., who will command the fleet which will take President Taft to New Orleans next week. Commander Tillman not only is fitting up the Oleander, the President's flagship, with new furniture and draperies, but he is seeing to it that the Mississippi River, from St. Louis to New Orleans, shall run to the sea next week unvexed by any craft that might cause annoyance to the head of the nation.

The Oleander will lead the procession of steamboats. No other boat in the flotilla, of Government or private ownership, will be permitted at any time to get alongside or ahead of the Oleander. The regulations demand that the vessels shall run 400 yards apart. If any vessel fails to get into its assigned position in the line at any stopping place, it must fall to the rear and keep that place until the next stop.

Charles Nagel of St. Louis, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, must give final approval to all these regulations, his department having charge of navigation matters on the Mississippi.

GALLANT LAD WINS THE HORSE SHOW FEATURE

Lawrence Jones's Horse Defeats Beau Brummel, Driven by Miss Long.

RED WING THIRD

Crowd Enthusiastic Over Drill of Forty Riders From the Stock Yards.

Miss Loula Long of Kansas City, driving her beautiful bay horse, Beau Brummel, divided honors with Lawrence Jones of Louisville in the feature event of the horse show at the Coliseum Tuesday night. Gallant Lad, regarded by competent critics as the best gig horse in America, was driven by Mr. Jones, but the judges hesitated a long time before awarding him the blue ribbon over Beau Brummel.

Miss Long won second honors, beating Red Wing, a bay gelding, owned by Mr Jones and driven by Miss Helen Rasmussen of Chicago. Miss Long's friends cheered her enthusiastically as she drove Beau Brummel around the arena at such a rapid pace that her Boston terrier had difficulty in keeping his place in the seat beside her. Red Wing did not behave perfectly for Miss Rasmussen, but she was frequently cheered by her friends as she demonstrated her mastery over him.

The Equestrian Club of the National Stockyards, in East St. Louis, which executed a number of drills, was cheered from the time the 40 horsemen entered the ring until they galloped out.

The officers of the troop, Col. James H. Campbell, Capt. John A. Campbell, Capt. Harry Gilmore and James Searcy, orderly to the commanding officer, conducted the drills. Many of the horses were good enough to win prizes in almost any horse show, but they were not entered for that purpose. The platoon drill started a demonstration in the crowd that spread to every part of the big hall, and caused Col. Campbell to lift his hat in response.

These horsemen participated in the Historical, Educational and Military parade Centennial week and will precede President Taft when he goes from East St. Louis Monday to board his steamer for New Orleans. E. E. Overstreet and E. Bright were the color bearers.

The many beautiful costumes in the boxes Tuesday night were generally overlooked by the big crowd, which was more interested in horses. There was very little promenading, those present preferring to witness the exhibition from their seats.

George Pepper of Toronto, Canada, was another contestant who frequently divided honors with Mr. Jones of Louisville. In the brougham class Mr. Pepper's chestnut gelding team, Amerigo and Navigo, won easily over the two other entries. Mr. Pepper's horses are perfectly matched, and moved easily and gracefully around the ring. They were favorites with the spectators from the time they entered the ring until the judges pinned the blue ribbon on them. Yankee Prince and Mohawk, brown geldings, owned by the Roebuck Farms of Indianapolis, won second prize, and John Alden and Elizabeth Alden, entered and driven by Mr. Jones, got the third prize.

Brougham Class Protested.

The rules of the horse show provide that only horses owned and kept for private use are eligible for entry in the brougham class. Complaint was made that the entries of Mr. Pepper, Mr. Jones and the Irvington Farm consisted of show horses only, and were not really eligible under the rule. J. J. Freund of St. Louis entered his black gelding team, Budweiser and Mate, and made a creditable showing. Mr. Freund insists his horses are the only ones eligible, under the rules, in this contest. They are kept for private use and are on the streets of St. Louis every day.

The opening event was a contest between saddles mares, any age, showing five distinct gaits, walk, trot, rack, canter and running walk, fox trot or slow pace. The blue ribbon in this event was won by Bride of the Mistle Toe, a beautiful chestnut mare, owned by L. T. Anderson of Mayesville, Ky. Golden Glow, a sorrel mare, owned by A. S. Burr of Bement, Ill., won the red ribbon, and a third prize was awarded to Patrica, a gray mare, exhibited by Hook & Woods of Paris, Mo.

Bessie O., a chestnut mare, exhibited by Harris & Bass of Crawfordsville, Ind., won the blue ribbon in the roadster class. William J. Cowles of Ashland, Ill., took the red ribbon with Harry M. and Ida C., a black mare, entered by A. J. Coleman of Harrodsburg, Ky., got the yellow ribbon. A fourth award was made to Helen Blases, owned by J. R. Peak & Son, Winchester, Ill.

Miss Rasmussen Rides.

The three-gait saddle horse contest gave Miss Rasmussen of Chicago an opportunity to pit her skill against some of the best riders in the country. Miss Rasmussen rode Jane, a black mare owned by Mr. Jones. She wore a black riding habit and a black silk hat, and rode in a side saddle. It was not Miss Rasmussen's fault that Jane came third in the contest. Lexington Chief, owned and ridden by George Z. Jackson of Chicago, won the blue ribbon, while Mr. Jones' other entry, High Jane, ridden by himself, took the second prize. G. Lacy Crawford rode Morning Glory, his sorrel gelding, but Mr. Crawford was so completely hidden behind a huge chrysanthemum that the crowd could see little of him. Mr. Pepper had several entries in this event, but took no prizes.

There was a lot of fun on tap while the delivery wagon contest was on. Friends and employes of business houses that had entries kept the galleries in a constant uproar, while the officials and judges had some enjoyment "sneaking" big, red apples out of a grocery wagon entered by David Remley. A dapple gray team entered by Famous won first prize, Nugents' pretty delivery team took the red ribbon, and the third prize went to the St. Louis Dressed Beef Co.'s chestnut team.

There was enough merchandise on the wagons in this contest to stock a good-sized retail store. The horses counted 50 per cent and the wagon, truck and appointments 50 per cent.

Only One Entry.

Mr. Pepper had the closing event, heavyweight, qualified or green hunters, to himself. Walter L. Freund of St. Louis was on the program to enter Holsum Boy, but he did not appear. Mr. Pepper's horses gave a beautiful exhibition of jumping fences. Merry Widow won first, Silverledge second and Policeman third prizes. All these horses are owned by Mr. Pepper. The horses created much enthusiasm by the graceful and perfect manner in which they jumped at full gallop.

The boxes were nearly all occupied and the arena and gallery seats were about half taken.

The entries for Wednesday evening's performance will bring out many of the best horses of the week. Mr. Crawford's Morning Glory and Mrs. Crawford's horse, Confidence, will be exhibited again in one of the riding contests. The equipped ambulances will be one of the out of ordinary events of the evening. Miss Long will show here great tandem pair, Lady Marta and Sensation.

At the matinee Thursday St. Louis children will drive their ponies. There will be Shetland ponies from all parts of the country, many of the entries being by Logan W. Black of Jacksonville, Ill., the largest exhibitor of Shetland ponies in the world.

TWENTY-FIRST STREET VIADUCT CONDEMNED AFTER ACCIDENT

Structure Is Declared Unsafe After Car Leaves Rails and Causes $2000 Damage.

Bridge Superintendent T. B. Hoffman has condemned the Twenty-first street viaduct as unsafe for street-car traffic. His action followed an accident which caused $2000 damage to the bridge and endangered the lives of about fifty passengers on a Meramec Highlands car.

The car left the tracks on an outbound trip Tuesday afternoon and crashed against the handrail protecting the footpath. But for the fact that the front trucks were stopped by a steel upright the car would have plunged into the railroad yards, 30 feet below.

Mrs. H. L. Page of 50 Bismarck street, Webster Groves, was bruised. Other passengers received minor injuries.

VON PHUL FELL AT RATE OF 40 MILES AN HOUR

He and Lambert in Balloon Came to Earth With Ocean 30 Miles Away.

DROPPED ON TREE

Descended Two and a Half Miles and Jolt Made Lambert Wound His Hip.

The most exciting balloon trip of his life is reported by S. Louis von Phul, who returned to St. Louis Wednesday from Ridgeville, S. C., near which town he and Albert Bond Lambert landed in the top of a pine tree from the balloon St. Louis III, last Friday, at the end of their unsuccessful effort to lift the Lahm Cup.

Mr. von Phul's recital of the experiences of himself and his pilot is unsurpassed for thrill by any novelist's tale of hairbreadth 'scapes by field or flood—or air.

Basket Turns Turtle.

"I sighted the Atlantic Ocean through glasses," said Mr. von Phul, "and we concluded we'd better come down. We were entirely out of ballast, and we descended at a rate of about forty miles an hour. We hit in the top of a pine, the basket turned turtle, and we hung suspended in the ropes for 15 minutes.

"Lambert got such a jolt when we struck that his teeth bit clean through his lip. I caught a pine twig in one of my eyes and narrowly missed losing the sight of that optic. Finally we climbed to the ground and cut down two big trees to recover the wreck of our balloon, which had swung among the branches and was cut to pieces, almost completely ruined so far as the gas bag is concerned.

"We were about 30 miles from the ocean and two and a half miles from the earth when we pulled the valve to descend. We were traveling at a rate of about 43 miles an hour, which we averaged all the way from St. Louis, 680 miles, in 15½ hours. We claim that we broke the speed record. A. Holland Forbes sailed 731 miles in 19¾ hours, about 37 miles an hour, in his winning voyage from St. Louis for the cup."

From the very start the St. Louis III had thrilling escapes. It missed the fence at Second and Rutger streets by only a few feet and had to lose two bags of ballast to clear some wires on the Levee. The basket almost butted into the side of one of the Blue Ridge Mountains before it finally landed in the pine tree.

Von Phul says he will go after the Lahm cup as pilot of the St. Louis III if the balloon can be repaired. Otherwise he will sail in the Missouri.

CLEVELAND FORMS AN AERO CLUB

Glenn Curtiss Promotes Aeroplane Experiments in Ohio City.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 20.—At a meeting here today of capitalists, among them many interested in scientific pursuits, it was decided to organize the Cleveland Aero Club. The organization was promoted by Glenn H. Curtiss, the aeroplanist, who has been in the city several days.

It is planned to purchase 10 acres of land for experimental purposes. Sheds will be erected. It is not proposed to manufacture flying machines, but only to experiment with the machines and promote the art of flying.

ENGINEER HURT IN RAILROAD ACCIDENT DIES IN HOSPITAL

Engineer Louis Burgess of Terre Haute, who was fatally injured in a wreck of the St. Louis-Pittsburg train of the Vandalia line at Effingham, Ill., at 7:45 p. m. Tuesday, died at 1:50 a. m. Wednesday at a hospital in Effingham. W. C. Harrison, fireman of the engine, jumped from the cab and escaped with slight injuries.

The wreck, which occurred 1500 feet west of the Illinois Central crossing, derailed and overturned the engine and tender, turned over a postal car immediately following the engine, and derailed the next three cars of the passenger train. No passengers were injured.

Burgess was caught underneath the engine and crushed. Fireman Harrison was on the water tank preparatory to taking water when the engine left the track.

The cause of the accident has not been ascertained, except that the wreck happened at what is known as the house track switch. The track for some distance was torn up.

After the derailment the switch lock was found on the ground and the top of the switch light was thrown back. The cup had overturned. The position of the overturned engine indicated that it started through the switch and left the track at the frog.

Three cars of the train were not derailed. An additional coach was taken from the Effingham yards and the train was sent onward with slight delay.

Cook Steals March on Peary.

Although Dr. Cook has been out of touch with the world for a number of years, it did not take him long upon his return to recognize the exceptional opportunity the talking machine offered for getting the story of his arduous and thrilling journey before the whole American public. Almost as soon as Dr. Cook set foot in this country he made a record for the Victor Talking Machine Co., and this interesting four-minute talk on "How I Reached the North Pole" has just now been issued and will take the great Arctic explorer's own story right into the homes of the people in every part of the world.

MINISTER TELLS WIVES TO FOOL THEIR HUSBANDS

Declares Man Is Transparent, and That He Should Be Made to Retain Belief That Woman He Weds Is an Angel.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Matrimonial mishaps and how to avoid them was the text of an address delivered before the Klio Association, a women's club, by the Rev. D. D. Vaughan last night.

About 200 young women listened to the discourse and went to their homes with some of the following epigrams to ponder over:

Marriage is the normal state, but it is no longer a necessary state.

Women often marry for a home, for money, or because they wish to show some other woman that they can marry that particular man.

Learn to understand your husbands—men are transparent.

Pretty girls are not in demand; neat girls are.

To hold the love of your husbands, keep fooling them. Make them believe you are the angel they supposed you before the wedding ceremony.

Women should love their husbands more than their children or parents; otherwise they will not be ideally happy.

The minister's subject was "Matrimony," which he said he had been studying for over a year, and upon which he felt competent to talk, inasmuch as he had circulated questions bearing on that subject to his congregation and had received over 200 answers.

"The idea that a man can live cheaper after he has married than he did before is fallacious and misleading," said Mr. Vaughan. "That is possible only when the candidate for matrimonial honors has spent his income in riotous living. The single man who has been thrifty will find that when he gets married he will be called upon to spend three times as much for living expenses as he did before."

REVOLUTION IN NICARAGUA INDORSED IN WASHINGTON

State Department Preparing to Recognize Estrada as Head of Government.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—That the State Department is preparing to recognize the revolutionary government of Nicaragua at the earliest possible moment is evidenced by the series of telegrams sent to the American consuls and consular agents in all parts of that republic asking for detailed reports of the progress of the rebellion against Zelaya.

The anti-foreign and malignantly anti-American policies of President Zelaya have disgusted this Government with the man and his methods. Any change will be welcome, and the understanding that Juan J. Estrada, the revolutionary leader, is friendly to the development of his country's resources through encouraging American capitalists combined with a further belief in his sincerity and honor, has created a prejudice in his favor with this Government.

FARMER EXPECTORATES ON STOVE IN STORE, IS BLINDED

Steam Poisons and Burns Eyes; One Destroyed, Other Injured.

HAMILTON, O., Oct. 20.—Charles Van Ausdall of Oxford, O., a farmer, came into a local store yesterday morning to buy groceries. He was chewing tobacco. He expectorated on the stove and a puff of the resulting steam struck his eyes.

It poisoned and burned the lids and so injured the iris and crystalline lens that doctors here say his sight is impaired so badly that he will never be able to use the right eye, and that the other is badly injured.

TYPHOON SWEEPS OVER PART OF ISLAND OF LUZON

Loss of Life Is Reported to Be Heavy and Property Damage Large.

MANILA, Oct. 20.—A typhoon of unusual severity swept across Northern and Central Luzon Sunday night. Wire communication with all points beyond Dagupan and Luzon was cut off, and details are lacking.

One message brought to Dagupan from San Fabian says that the loss of life was considerable and the damage to property heavy. Torrential rains accompanied the storm and an extensive area was flooded. The railroad bed was washed out at several points and one railway station was swept away.

BEATS CRYING BABY, IMPRISONED

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Recorder Thompson today sentenced George Morgan to Goshen jail for 30 days for beating his 22-months-old baby daughter because she had cried too hard.

The Recorder would not consider the plea of the father to be let off because of his provocation, as it was shown that he had whipped the little one until she was black and blue. He was taken to jail in tears.

THROAT MISERY

Read How a Boston Man Got Rid of Chronic Throat Disease.

"Hyomei did me a world of good when I had chronic laryngitis; in fact effected a cure after all the best specialists had given me up as a bad job. I tried Hyomei the same as I had tried hundreds of other things that people or doctors would recommend. They all failed except Hyomei, and this effected a cure that has been lasting. All my troubles happened 12 years ago and I had ought to be ashamed not to have written you before. At first I waited to see if the cure was permanent or not, and when you realize that for five winters before I used Hyomei that I could not speak above a whisper and sometimes not at all, you can judge why I waited with a good deal of anxiety for time to tell if I was really cured or not."—E. A. Lindsey, 145 South Street, Boston, Mass., April 1, 1909.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BURLINGTON, N. J., Oct. 20.—If anybody ever doubted that a "Jersey devil" left its uncanny footprints in the snow in this and adjoining states last winter, proof has been found that the scare was never due to Jersey applejack.

The body of the queerest animal ever seen, a beast not on the schedule of any natural history, was found by Morris Cabinsky and another lad of Roebling, in the woods near Kinkora, and is now on exhibition in this city, where hundreds of people have seen and marveled at it.

Photographs have been made of the beast, and Prof. Henry Morse, curator of the State Museum, will be appealed to give the animal a name and place it where it belongs—if he is able to do so.

The boys thought at first they had come upon the carcass of a big wildcat, but it looked so queer to them that they decided to carry it into town.

The body, still in good condition, is that of an animal about two feet long, slender, with some resemblance to a cat as to the head and fur, but with two forelegs that look more like the hind legs of a kangaroo, only they have four distinct joints and terminate in bony feet of immense dimensions.

The hind legs are rather like those of a cat, but much larger. The neck is long and slender, and the head very small in proportion to the rest of the body. At the time of the "Jersey devil" sensation of last winter several persons said they had caught glimpses of the strange creature, but all averred that it flew. This beast has nothing like wings, save large protuberances on the hind legs.

SINCE COLLISION IN PARK CONTRACTOR GRAY HAS LOST ENTHUSIASM AS AN AUTOIST

He Makes Affidavit in His Damage Suit Against Mrs. J. C. Van Blarcom.

C. L. Gray, president of the C. L. Gray Construction Co., is not as ardent a motorist as he was before his machine and that of Mrs. J. C. Van Blarcom crashed together in Forest Park April 2. In a deposition given by him, filed in Judge Muench's court, in support of his suit against Mrs. Van Blarcom for $6500 damages, he says the accident almost cured him of the automobile fever, and for that reason he has been in no hurry about getting his machine out of the repair shop.

When the collision occurred Mr. Gray had several friends with him. Mrs. Van Blarcom was in her machine and her son Fred was driving. Mrs. Van Blarcom has filed a counter claim of $1500, alleging that Gray's chauffeur was responsible for the accident.

Mr. Gray says in his deposition that when the Van Blarcom car approached the Gray car was pulled to the extreme right and the horn was tooted, but that Van Blarcom paid no attention and ran into them when they were away off the road.

Depositions of Mrs. Van Blarcom and her son were also filed. Mrs. Van Blarcom says she was not paying more attention to the surroundings that usual, but that she always paid pretty close attention because she was a coward. She does not think the car was going fast because she had warned her son not to go fast, as she had been arrested three times.

Fred Van Blarcom testified that he could not see far ahead through the glass because of rain and sleet. He was asked if he was the chauffeur and said he was the driver. The difference, as he explained it, was that a chauffeur cleaned the machine and looked after it generally, while the driver only drove.

Let Me Tell You Something

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is to blame for her own wretched condition.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read what these women say:

Camden, N. J.—"It is with pleasure that I send my testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, hoping it may induce other suffering women to avail themselves of the benefit of this valuable remedy.

"I suffered from pains in my back and side, sick headaches, no appetite, was tired and nervous all the time, and so weak I could hardly stand. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman—and this valuable medicine shall always have my praise."—Mrs. W. P. Valentine, 902 Lincoln Av., Camden, N. J.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles, and at last was almost helpless. I tried three doctors but they did me no good. My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has made me well and strong. I hope all suffering women will just give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, for it is worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. Endlich, R. F. D. 7, Erie, Pa.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

☛ If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.

CAN DICKEY BE SIDETRACKED, IS PARTY PROBLEM

Republican State Editorial Association to Consider Senatorial Situation.

HADLEY FOR HARMONY

He Is Friendly to Chairman, but Fears Fight May Give State to Democrats.

Secretary of Commerce Nagel, Gov. Hadley, Senator Warner, Chairman Dickey of the Republican State Committee, Postmaster Akins, Marshal Morsey and other Federal office holders are among the leading Republicans invited to attend the annual convention of the Republican Editorial Association, to be held at Joplin Thursday and Friday. Incidentally, they will confer regarding next year's campaign in Missouri, and particularly the United States senatorship.

Senator Warner, who is a candidate for re-election, desires to have no opposition. Mr. Akins and other Federal officials have served notice on the rank and file that the Senator is entitled to this consideration. They hold that Chairman Dickey, another prospective candidate, should wait until another opportunity is presented, and thereby assure absolute harmony in the party.

Dickey Is Obdurate.

Thus far Dickey has ignored the Federal officeholders' threats, and has indicated that, regardless of the Warner-Akins-Nagel organization, he will try for the senatorial nomination.

Dickey's friends say the Federal crowd has been anything but kind to him. For example, they say, his most cherished ambition was a Cabinet portfolio or some important Government post. But the Taft administration had nothing to offer him.

Gov. Hadley is friendly to Dickey, as is Thomas K. Niedringhaus, who lost the senatorship through the Kerens bolt in 1905, and as are probably a dozen members of the State committee who are not tied down by Federal patronage.

Senator Warner was the compromise candidate of the Kerens and Niedringhaus forces five years ago.

Plot Has Been Suspected.

It was the Kerens that brought him out as the man who could end the senatorial deadlock, and the Niedringhaus followers merely acquiesced. At the same time Niedringhaus felt that Maj. Warner had been a candidate all along for Senator, and that his election was not the result of an accident, but that there had been a carefully concealed plot, with the Kerens lieutenants as the chief conspirators.

Niedringhaus, the politicians say, has an opportunity to even an old score by supporting Dickey and opposing Warner in the senatorial fight to be waged in 1910.

Dickey and Niedringhaus have been closely allied in several campaigns, and they do not appear to be alarmed by the fact that back of Warner are more than 2000 Federal officeholders.

Hadley as Harmonizer.

Gov. Hadley is anxious that Dickey and Warner shall get together and bury their differences.

He fears that a sharp factional row at this time would endanger the chances for Republican success in Missouri a year hence. It is thought the State Editorial Association meeting may settle all differences and may be the means of placating Dickey by offering him something which will prove not less attractive than the senatorial chance.

BUT 6 OF 24 JURORS ARE ROOTERS FOR THE BROWNS

Seventeen Others Never Went to American League Park to See a Game.

Of a panel of 24 men summoned to serve on a jury in a suit against the American League Baseball Club Wednesday but six acknowledged they were Brown rooters. Of the others 17 said they had never seen a game at the American League park.

Joseph S. Breitenbach of 3615 Blair avenue, the remaining member of the panel when asked what sort of fan he was said:

"Well, I went out to the American League Park four or five times this season, but I was so disgusted because the Browns didn't win that I quit going."

He was excused from jury service in the case.

The suit against the baseball club was brought by the Guarantee Interior Fixture Co., which demanded $140 as the purchase price of four ticket boxes.

The jury, on which were three of the fans who said they had been to see the Browns play, decided against the American League Baseball Club. The case was appealed from Justice Greer, who found for the club.

JEFF — SURE TO SIGN AND CAMPAIGN OF THE PRESS AGENTS WILL BEGIN BEFORE NEXT WEEK ENDS — CAYOU — HAS HOPES THAT HIS WASHINGTON ELEVEN MAY SURPRISE THE HEAVY AND CONFIDENT JAYHAWKER MEN — SPORT

NO DOUBT NOW THAT BIG JEFF WILL SIGN UP

Campaign Din, Headed by Sam Berger, Likely to Follow Signing of Articles.

BY ROBERT EDGREN,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.

JEFFRIES is coming. It isn't necessary to explain that the "Jeffries" referred to is James J. There's only one Jeffries in the public mind at this time.

Jeff is coming—and so is Sammy Berger, and Jeff will sign when he comes. Berger will do a whole lot of talking and then some more. He'll have typewritten statements and interviews long and short. You won't be able to pick up a paper in America without seeing some of Sam's sayings about Jeffries, about Johnson, Ketchel, the weather, Billy Britt, Langford, Jeff's condition, the gold output of California for 1900, how much money Jeff and Johnson will draw, how to wear neckties and what Jeff eats for breakfast. Berger has opened a gents' furnishing goods store in San Francisco, and he needs the advertising.

But Jeffries won't say any more than he usually says, and that's very little. The less said the better. He'll just sign and sit close. We've all been hearing about what Jeffries will do to Johnson and what Johnson will do to Jeffries until the subject is threadbare. Let Jeff make his proposition to Johnson, sign up as soon as possible and go to work. When the big fellow is really away in the mountains doing real work instead of stage stunts, we'll all feel relieved.

Stay at Home Burke.

Sailor Burke is to fight Billy Papke in New Orleans on Oct. 31.—Papke demanded a $500 side bet. Judging from the fight between Burke and Papke in the National A. C. of this city, from the fight in which Willie Lewis made Burke flop to his knees and stay there, and the recent Lewis-Papke meeting, I don't need to have the gift of prophecy to risk this prediction: Burke won't enjoy his trip, either coming or going back. On the way South he'll be thinking about what Papke's going to do to him. On the way back he'll be thinking of what Papke did. Neither of these lines of thought will add anything to Mr. Burke's cheerfulness.

I Like My Football, But—

Football is still claiming its victims. Earl Wilson, the Annapolis quarterback, who was injured in Saturday's game with Villanova, is in a far more serious condition than was at first supposed. After receiving the injury, he became paralyzed from the neck down. The doctors hoped that the paralysis would disappear in a few hours and that Wilson would be able to play again in a couple of weeks. Now it has been discovered that he actually has a broken neck. One of the vertebra, an X-ray picture shows, is fractured. His recovery is doubtful, and in any case nothing can save him, the doctors fear, but an exceedingly delicate and dangerous operation.

Almost all of the victims of football are untrained players on scrub teams. It is a rare case when a trained and experienced player like the navy quarter receives anything more than a wrenched knee or a broken collarbone.

Tommy Burns May Try a Turn With Langford

Burns May Meet Langford.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.

Jack Gleason, the fight promoter of San Francisco, is trying to clinch a match between Sam Langford, the colored fighter, and Tommy Burns, the ex-heavyweight champion, to be decided at his club in Frisco the latter part of next month. Gleason has already cabled an offer to Burns, who is at present in Australia, but the chances are that he will not arrange the bout as Burns wants too much money to meet the colored man.

Jimmy Gardner, the clever New England fighter, and Bill McKinnon, the rugged middleweight of Boston, are going to exchange wallops in a twelve round bout at the Armory A. A. of Boston on next Tuesday night. Miah Murrany, manager of the club, last night matched the men to battle and as they are aggressive fighters they ought to put up a fast and interesting battle. The winner will be matched to meet Harry Lewis.

Charley White, or Jack McGuigan of Philadelphia, will referee the fifteen round bout between Leach Cross and Harry Stone, the East Side lightweights, at the Eureka A. C. of Baltimore on the night of Oct. 28. Cross has asked for either of those popular referees to be the third man in the ring, and as Al Herford, manager of the club, is perfectly willing to have either, the chances are that White will get the job.

The next important scrap to take place in San Francisco will be the twenty round bout between Johnny Frayne and Lew Powell before the Mission A. C. on Oct. 29. The contest has been twice postponed on account of Frayne having an attack of rheumatism but as Johnny is well again the scrap will go on the latter date. The winner will be matched to fight Battling Nelson.

Stanley Ketchel is anxious to fight on Thanksgiving Day afternoon if a suitable opponent can be secured for him, to meet in a battle in California. Stanley has asked Jimmy Coffroth to try and secure Jim Flynn, the Pueblo light heavyweight, to fight him for twenty rounds and Coffroth says he will put on the bout if Flynn beats Jack Burns, the California heavyweight, at Los Angeles on Oct. 29.

TENPIN STARS BOWL POORLY

Two of Forty Contestants Reach The Charmed Circle of 600.

Only two men out of the 40 who took part in the City Star Tenpin League matches Tuesday night were able to get over 600 pins for an average of .200. This is rather unusual, as the best bowlers in the city are competing with the eight teams that compose the organization.

Al Jellison of the Duffys got a total of 609 pins. "Con" Fuerman of the Witter-Christens got a total of 639 pins, which was easily the best score of the evening. The Hyde Parks sprang a surprise by taking two out of three games from the Duffys, Vandewater, Harvey Mann and Gus Schmitt doing the heavy work for the winners.

The Regals beat the Blackwell-Wielandys. L. W. Waldecker's 540 total was high for the winners. The Witter-Christens bowled a nice game and walked off with three games from the Fer Mil Lacs in easy style. The Witter-Christens registered the best team total of the evening, 2927. The Fern Glens took the odd game in their match with the Jaegers in the fourth match Tuesday night. Grassmuch, with a total of 532 was the star of this contest.

Tigers Please Coaches.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 20.—The practice yesterday was very encouraging, even though many of the regulars were not present. Read, McCrohan, Welch and Dawson were [illegible]. The varsity by line plunges scored twice in the second scrimmage. Woody was back in the game and did good work. The coaches have changed their tactics in the end proposition. Up to this time they have been looking for heavy men to fill the extremities, but from now on lighter men will be used. Ballin, a fast but light man, was used for the first time today. Van Dyke, the crew captain, was given a try.

Walter C. Booth, '00, of the Advisory Committee, was present and declared that he was well pleased with the progress of the team.

Camp Jr. on Yale Squad.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 20.—Among the freshmen out for football is Walter Camp Jr., son of the father of football at Yale. Young Camp is a halfback and Yale grads of another day say that he plays like his father. He is about the same build, is tall and light. He played at Westminster School at Simsbury, and will be heard from at Yale.

Another member of the team is Holladay Philbin, the brother of Steve Philbin, and son of Former District Attorney Philbin of New York City. He is the other halfback on the freshman team. Yesterday Camp scored a touchdown against the scrub team.

There is talk of changes on the varsity. The four positions in doubt are left tackle, where Hobbs has been playing center, which is contested for by Cooney and Hyde, right tackle where Lilley plays, and quarterback, where Howe, Johnson, Corey and Merritt have played during the past few days. In the scrimmage, yesterday, Coy and Field scored on runs around the end, Vaughan scored twice on forward passes from Coy and Coy kicked a goal from the field.

Indians' Heap Big Bear Tale.

CARLISLE, Pa., Oct. 20.—For the first time this season Coach Warner's Carlisle Indians held signal practice here in Indian Field. The Redskins, following a lecture from Warner, which came directly after school, worked easily through the new signals, and a number of new plays now being developed by the Indian coach. A short scrimmage followed to carry the projected plays into practice.

Carlisle is unfortunate in having nearly all of her back-field players out because of the characteristic backwardness of the Red Men in speaking of injuries to himself. Carlisle realizes that the University of Pittsburg game on Saturday will be a hard one, and is preparing for it with zeal.

Wonder and Matthey Meet.

Wonder (160) will meet Matthey (170) in the fifth game of the straight rail billiard tournament at Peterson's billiard hall Wednesday evening. Tozer (170) defeated Dr. Fuller (125) Tuesday evening, 170 to 125. Tozer's high run was 15. He averaged [illegible]

M. A. C. COMES BACK TO LIFE

Club Assures Ten-Mile Swim and Will Stage a Big Athletic Meet.

Designs for the new $1000 swimming trophy will be submitted to the M. A. C. It is emblematic of the annual National A. A. U. 10-mile swimming championship race, held in the Mississippi River under M. A. C. auspices.

Harry Handy of Chicago took the $1000 Busch Cup out of competition by scoring his third victory in the annual race last month. Members of the M. A. C. Saturday subscribed more than $1000 to to buy a new cup, to be known as the M. A. C. trophy.

It is probable that the conditions for the race next year will be the same as governed the Busch trophy, which makes it necessary for a swimmer to win three of the annual races before he can take the trophy out of competition.

It is almost certain, too, that the race next year will be held early in August instead of on Labor day, the first Monday in September, as has been the case in the past.

Big Indoor Meet Planned.

The fact that the Missouri A. C. has also decided to give what is expected to be the greatest indoor meet ever held in St. Louis, in the Coliseum, after the Christmas holidays, makes it apparent that the big Washington avenue club intends to cut some figure in the local athletic world this season.

Eddie Cochems is authority for the statement that Barnes University will also hold a big indoor meet, while it is probable that St. Louis will also hold its annual indoor affair, which will give St. Louis three big athletic events to look forward to.

SUN HIDES AND PILGRIMS GET ANOTHER BAD DAY

The Pilgrims soccer eleven from England seems to be running into hard luck, so far as weather is concerned, on its visit to St. Louis. Saturday it rained before the game with the Blue Bells had been completed. Sunday the rain early in the morning had turned the field at Sportsman's Park into a slippery proposition on which the Englishmen were unable to show their best game.

The Pilgrims are scheduled to play the Gillespie Blues at Gillespie, Ill., Wednesday afternoon. The coal mines will be shut down, and the Mayor will kick off the ball. The rain Wednesday morning will no doubt hold down the attendance, and it is probable that the Englishmen will again have to perform on a muddy field, on which they will be unable to display their best game.

HUGH DUFFY WILL LEAD OLD ROMAN'S WHITE SOX

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 20.—Hugh Duffy, who for the last three seasons has managed the Providence team of the Eastern League, has accepted terms with Comiskey to manage the White Sox in 1910. The salary is not stated, but it is supposed to be in the neighborhood of $12,000. Duffy is spending a few days at Mount Clemens, and this evening confirmed the report that he had signed with the old Roman.

NATIONAL AMATEUR BOXING CHAMPION AN EASY MARK

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Harry Lewis of Philadelphia knocked out Dan Sullivan of Cambridge, a younger brother of the fighting twins, Mike and Jack, in the first round of their 12-round contest at the Armory Athletic Association last night. Sullivan is the national amateur middleweight champion and this was his first professional contest. He was no match for the Philadelphian.

First Principles at West Point.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 20.—The Army football team have once more been brought back to the rudiments. Saturday's game showed the Army did not tackle as hard and surely as they should, and Coach Beacham kept the men tackling the dummy so fast that it scarcely bounded out of one man's arms before another nailed it in the fly.

The ends were taken in hand by Lieut. Cooper and sent down under punts, and the long drill showed some improvement in starting quickly.

Dean came out of the hospital and got in the signal practice. Byrne went on the sick list and Hyatt also was absent. Chamberlin is still laid up and is not expected out this week.

Auto Course Is Doomed.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Crown Point's grand stand for automobile races, erected at the time of the Cobe and Indiana trophy events, with a seating capacity of 10,000, is now in the hands of a wrecking crew. Although lacking official confirmation from the Chicago Automobile Club, which faced a deficit of some $30,000 in promoting the races, the Crown Point-Lowell course is now believed to be off the map so far as big automobile races are concerned.

WRAY'S COLUMN.

BEFORE THE GAME.

By Any Coach, Before Any Battle.

OUR punter has a bunged-up toe,
Our quarterback is noarse;
Our halfbacks have no backbone, so
We'll lose the game, of course.
OUR right end man always gets left;
Our left end's never right;
Our tackles lack in tackling deft—
The outlook sure's a fright.
OUR guards seem solid—in the head;
Our center—let him pass.
Take this from me—it's on the dead—
The other team's the class.

(But you ought to hear that coach roar between halves, if any of the bunch should chance to live up to his prediction.)

Speak, Oh Sphinx!

Now is the time to begin our winter building of another St. Louis baseball championship, to have it wrecked again next summer. Fortunately, the wrecking crew has an engagement at Washington next year.

WHICH reminds us that the builder of the new Browns has yet to be officially named for the place. But be not alarmed. They do say he has been catching for the barnstormers during the recent trip of Harry Howell's club. He has a brother-in-law who works on the Browns, it is hinted. And yet—well, one wonders why all the reticence about the matter, if there be no doubt.

"That will be about all for us this year," says a baseball scribe of the Kansas paper. "All right for him," adds Hugh Keough, "but how about the rest of us?"

Which may be construed to mean from now until the first of February, the scribes of diamond lore will have to scratch gravel for something to write about.

An alarming report is coming out of the Tiger lair. It is said that the Detroit team will go on a strike. But be not alarmed, President Navin. It is only the customary strike for money which they won't get, just as usual.

Tyrus Cobb is going to ask for a $15,000 contract. Probably he will base it on his work during the world's series. And then, again, perhaps he won't—if he's wise.

How Could They Do It.

WONDER what sort of ginger the American League has taken to so befool the form experts? Surely, from the multiplicity of opinions on the subject, the National League outclassed the Americans. And yet, ding it, here come the beaten Athletics and trim the "best team in the world," and they did it to the Cubs' best pitcher and by a shut-out score. Can you beat it, Duff?

As a preliminary to the Johnson-Jeffries battle there will be an interesting contest between Sam Berger and G. Little. The battle will be for the heavyweight press agency championship, and no words of more than two syllables will be permitted. It is rumored that C. Murphy of the Chicago Cubs will be in Berger's corner with a supply of hot oxygen, in case his man weakens.

Hugh Keough, replying to a correspondent, says: "We don't know how to pronounce the name of the wrestler Zbysco, but we believe the "y" is silent, as in cheese."

It is quite a mouthful, Hugh.

Go Get Him, Bob.

Having signed Hugh Duffy for his White Sox, at a salary for five years of $12,000 per success (or failure), Manager Comiskey will not be in the market with one of the best assets in baseball—and one of the most expensive. But expense doesn't count, our club owners keep telling us. Here's a chance to show.

James Russell Lowell once inquired in several stanzas "what is so rare as a day in June?" James was unfamiliar with modern conditions or he might have known that, next to the raw, short-order thing served for steak, the rarest thing in these parts is a Detroit rooter who is still one.

Perhaps it is in line to wonder, now, if the Athletics could not have won that flag from the Pittsburgs. With that splendid pitching corps, and those two famous veterans of former championship series, Plank and Bender, the Athletics would have had much the better of the Pirates in the box. The team would be weaker than the Pirates behind the bat, probably better at the bat; and quite as good on the bases and in the field. And then there would be no slips of judgment on Connie Mack's part, such as happened at Detroit.

Such speculations are a real unkindness to Hughey Jennings, who fought so gallantly for three years and who has improved his club with each season. Jennings' remarkable energy and enthusiasm deserve a better fate.

But then the Athletics did beat them 14 games to 8, on the season's series, you know.

Too Early To Give Up.

Football interest seems to need a little tonic in St. Louis. Remembering the good teams put into the field by Cochems in recent years, the city feels a lack of eclat and the glamor of big scores and brilliant playing which marked the past three seasons.

It is early yet and the season may show well, but it requires some imagination to believe this. Our best team has suffered from disintegration, player after player of ability having quit the club.

Oh, for one more eleven such as that which won by 39—0 from the team that held Minnesota to a 0—0 score!

Never again!

"Oh, you raven," did we hear anybody remark? But facts are facts, you know. You can't lick a Jack Johnson with a Stanley Ketchel, however willing the little boy be.

TWO I. L. GAMES ON TURKEY DAY

Smith and Central Will Run Rival Show to McKinley-Manual Contest.

Followers of the interscholastic teams will be given the opportunity to witness the best teams in the league in action on Thanksgiving day, when Smith Academy meets Central High and McKinley meets Manual.

The McKinley-Manual game was booked already at the close of the '08 campaign, when it was thought that these two teams would settle the '09 championship.

Sportsman's Park was also rented for the occasion, but now, since the Manual team is hopelessly out of the race, the Central High and Smith Academy postponed their game from Oct. 30 to Turkey day, to run in competition with the other game.

This game will be played at League Park, and it is a revival of the old Turkey day enmity between these two schools. Until two years ago, since the organization of the Interscholastic League, these two schools have played on that day for the football supremacy. But the shifting of the strength of the various Interscholastic League teams brought about the change that the champions and the runners-up of one season had the privilege to play on Thanksgiving the next. As the clause in the amendment did not forbid any of the other teams to play, Smith and Central lost no time in taking advantage of the opportunity.

On Thanksgiving morning at League Park many of the old-timers will come to see the old rivalry resumed. Smith and Central are prominent contenders in this year's race, and by the time the game is scheduled to play it might be of important consequence.

Nevertheless, the McKinley-Manual game will be highly patronized in spite of the fact that the latter is practically out of the race. Coach Thomas will have sufficient time to build up a team that might come near getting the South Sider's scalp.

TY COBB TO DRIVE FAMOUS AUTO IN GOOD ROADS TOUR

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—"Ty" Cobb, the heavy hitting batsman of the American League baseball club, is to drive an automobile in the good roads tour from New York to Atlanta, which starts from this city next Monday evening. Cobb is to drive a car which made 20,800 miles in 100 consecutive days when Harry Knipper of Detroit drove it in a contest. Knipper also drove the same car from Denver to Mexico in the "flag to flag route," making the trip over mountains, deserts, plains and sandy wastes in remarkable time.

In the coming tour Cobb will drive this car over 1050 miles carrying a mechanician and two passengers into his old home at Atlanta, where a great reception awaits him for his baseball playing.

Tricky Cochems Puts Barnes Team Through Drill on Fake Plays

De Paul University Men Will Probably Have to Open Their Eyes to Follow Some of the Wizard's Puzzles.

If the Barnes University football eleven does not show new and excellent plays in the game with the De Paul University football eleven of Chicago, Saturday afternoon, at Sportsman's Park, it will not be the fault of Coach Cochems.

Up to this time Cochems has put in most of his time teaching his men the rudiments of the game. Straight line plunges have been practically all that the Barnes men have used in their games. Last Saturday Barnes tried the forward pass frequently, but without success, for the reason that the men did not go about the play with the necessary confidence.

Cochems had his men walking through all kinds of formations Tuesday afternoon at Sportsman's Park. He would then place several of his line men in position and have his backs try to get by them. This sort of work gave his men some much-needed scrimmage practice.

Cochems should be able to turn out a good team. Magner, Mepham, Watts, Williams and Wells are all boys who know the game of football. Magner got back into the practice and also tried some punting. Last Saturday Barnes was badly in need of a good kicker.

It is probable that Barnes will elect a captain today. Magner acted as captain in the opening games and when he was injured Williams was appointed temporary captain. A captain is badly needed.

Hopeful Out a Pikeway.

Both St. Louis U. and Washington U. put in a good afternoon's work. Coach Cayou of the Washington U. eleven changed his tactics a bit. Instead of the hard scrimmage work he had the men catch punts, practice falling on the ball and in other ways sharpen up their speed. Cayou cannot take any chances of having his men being injured before such an important game as the contest with Kansas, to be played at Lawrence, Saturday. The Washington men are all in good trim. The team is fast and Washington men really have ground for hopes for a victory. The game displayed by the wearers of the myrtle and maroon last Saturday, coupled with the fact that Kansas is not over strong this year, gives the Pikeway boys a look-in.

Big Henry Lindsay, captain of the St. Louis U. eleven, is trying his best to instill confidence into his men for the game with Wabash College, to be played at League Park Saturday afternoon. The Wabash team is one of the hardest elevens to beat on the blue and white schedule. Last year St. Louis U. was barely able to scratch out a victory over Wabash. The year previous the St. Louis team lost to the "Little Giants." The Indiana eleven will come to St. Louis fit to play their best football of the year. Football at Wabash is a serious proposition. The school generally turns out an eleven that is full of fight and dash, and the men are always in the pink of condition. St. Louis U. will certainly make up for its two defeats at the start of the season if the varsity can manage to take the measure of the "Little Giants," although locally it is thought that Warner's men will hardly be able to do so. Painter is still with the St. Louis U. squad. It was reported that he had returned to his home in Illinois, but he was out at League Park Tuesday afternoon working in his regular position.

TRIAL WILL INVESTIGATE CROOKED BASEBALL CHARGE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 20.—Former Manager William A. Smith of Atlanta's pennant-winning Southern League baseball team, has been cited to appear before the directors at the annual meeting her, Nov. 8, to sustain charges he is alleged to have made to the effect that Atlanta baseball officials dismissed him because he would not "draw a fine finish on the pennant race for the past season." Smith is at his home in Springfield, O.

CUBA'S FREE, BUT EGGS ARE $2 A DOZEN THERE JUST NOW

Further Shortage Caused by Confiscation of Two Carloads in Florida.

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 20.—Two solid carloads of eggs, sent from here to Cuba to take advantage of the almost prohibitive price charged for the product there, were stopped at Knight's Key at the time of the storm this week, and, being blocked from shipment, were confiscated by the railroad authorities and turned over to the several thousand workmen who had lost all of their supplies.

Eggs are now selling at $2 per dozen in Cuba, according to local commission men.

Help Wanted

MALE

A FEW years spent in the Navy are years of valuable experience; habits of regularity are formed; healthy exercise, regular drills and growing responsibility develop quickness and self-reliance; many large employers prefer men who have had naval training because more capable and efficient. Young men with mechanical knowledge have greater opportunities; they master their trade instead of being mere helpers. Go to a recruiting office and learn about the fine chances in the different branches of the service to save money, the hours of duty, cruises, sports, promotion, etc.; you are not urged to enlist; individuality will be developed, not suppressed in the Navy; ask anyone in the service about it. The Navy hanger in Postoffice and Navy posters will give you an idea of the appearance of a bluejacket. Apply at Navy Recruiting Office, Postoffice Bldg., St. Louis, Mo. (53c)

WEAK CLOSING IN SECURITIES ON WALL ST.

Fractional Declines in the General List; Pacific Mail Is Strong.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20, 3 p. m.—There was weakness in the general list in the final hour. Pacific Mail was a notable exception, gaining 1⅝ points. C. & O., St. Paul, Great Northern and Southern Pacific declined ½ on the day's trading, while New York Central and Northern Pacific lost ¾ each. Smelting and Steel common also declined fractionally.

There was about an even break in prices during the forenoon, losses and gains being about even. Most of the industrials were higher, while a majority of the rails declined.

Anaconda advanced ⅜, Smelting and Steel common ⅛ each, Amalgamated Copper and Colorado Fuel ⅞ each. Lead and Steel preferred were at parity and Consolidated Gas did not open.

In the rails division Atchison and B. R. T. gained ⅛ each, Pennsylvania ½ and Wabash preferred 1 point.

St. Paul, Reading and Union Pacific were unchanged. B. & O., C. & O., Erie, Great Northern, Northern Pacific and M., K. & T. declined ¼ each, Canadian Pacific, New York Central and Southern Pacific ½ each and Rock Island preferred ⅜.

Trading was fairly active.

The stock market opened today with changes in either direction confined to small fractions. Several of the prominent railroad issues made advances, but recessions were general in the industrial stocks. The range in quotations extended between ⅛ and ¾. Smelting, Amalgamated Copper and the United States Steels lost ⅜ each.

Anaconda and Lead declined ⅛ each and Pressed Steel common ⅜. General Electric was at parity.

In the railway list St. Paul, Great Northern, Erie, Rock Island preferred and Union Pacific lost ⅛ each, Pennsylvania and Reading ⅛ each and Canadian Pacific ⅜.

Atchison gained ⅛. B. & O. and Northern Pacific ¼ each, M., K. & T., Rock Island common and Wabash preferred ⅜ each, and C. & O. and Southern Pacific ½ each.

New York Central advanced ⅛.

Price movements were irregular in the first half-hour's trading. Changes were insignificant. Pennsylvania, Union Pacific, Wabash preferred and Atchison gained a small fraction each, while the Rock Island stocks and Northern Pacific declined a small fraction each. Erie, St. Paul, Reading, Southern Pacific and M., K. & T. were unchanged. There was marked activity in Reading in the early trading.

Amalgamated Copper and Smelting gained ⅛ each, while Steel common remained at its opening quotation. M., K. & T. preferred sold ex-dividend of 2 per cent. Consolidated Gas and B. R. T. were inactive.

American securities in London were heavy, being from ⅛ to ½ below parity.

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S TRADING ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The stock market had an irregular opening today, following the weak closing of yesterday. Covering operations in some quarters were accompanied by further selling in others. Reading, Pennsylvania, United States Steel preferred and Pressed Steel Car declined large fractions and Southern Railway rose ⅜.

Brisk demand for some of the low-priced stocks, particularly Southern Railway and Wabash preferred, which went up a point, gave a temporary appearance of firmness to the market, and Reading, United States Steel and other depressed stocks recovered fully. Union Pacific was in especial demand and rallied a point. A readiness to take profits and some bear selling started prices downward afterward, and Reading and Union Pacific preferred sold a point under last night. Other important stocks receded to their opening figures or below. There was further increase for the express stocks, but the movement was along restricted lines.

Wabash preferred extended its rise to 1¾. American Express gained 7, United States Express 4, Colorado Fuel 1¼, Pittsburg Coal 1¼ and Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis 1. Active selling then developed, carrying Union Pacific, Rock Island preferred, St. Louis & Southwestern, Atlantic Coast Line, United States Steel, American Locomotive, Great Northern Ore certificates, Interboro Metropolitan preferred and others a point under last night and Northwestern 3⅛. The market became very dull when prices seemed to recede. Bonds were irregular.

There was a slight setback to the prices on profit-taking, but they did not stay down long, the list getting back to its former level when the selling decreased. St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred and Central Leather yielded a point, and Pacific Mail rose 1¼.

The market moved upward at a slow rate after midday, United States Steel going slightly above yesterday's closing and Union Pacific and Reading also making their morning losses. Norfolk & Western and International Harvester advanced 1 and Distillers' Securities 1¼. St. Joseph & Grand Island first preferred dropped 2 points and American Malting preferred 1⅜.

The market closed heavy and uncertain. Prices moved narrowly, hardening for a time and then sagging again. Chicago Terminal Transfer and Virginia Iron sold at a decline of 1¼ and New York Central, Iowa Central preferred, Toledo, St. Louis & Western and Railway Steel Spring 1.

SUGAR PRICES REACH HIGH LEVEL FOR 1909

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Scarcity of spot sugar caused an advance in the price of centrifugals last week to 4.30c a pound on Oct. 11, the market closing on the 14th at 4.27c. The 4.30c price is a new high price for the year and .19c below the high for 1908, while the 4.27c price is an advance over the previous week of .35c per pound. Stocks for stored sugars were depleted by the purchase on the part of Canadian refiners of 4000 tons of old crop Java sugars. Arbuckle Bros. during the week purchased extensively of Louisiana sugars for November-December shipment to New York, it being understood that the purchases amounted to about 35,000 tons at a price of 3-16c under the New York market at the time of arrival in New York.

RYS. PREFERRED IS DEPRESSED ON EXCHANGE

On Active Trading Loses ½ Point, Bank of Commerce Lower.

Railway preferred was the feature of trading at Wednesday's session of the St. Louis Stock Exchange, over 300 shares changing hands at receding prices. Tuesday price for this security ranged between 70¼ and 70⅛, while the closing price Wednesday was 69¾, a loss of ½ point between sessions. The weakness in Railways preferred is said to be caused by a prospective agitation for a subway in St. Louis.

The stock was offered at 69¾ towards the close, with 69½ bid.

The miscellaneous list was dull.

MONEY MARKET.

St. Louis interest rates are inclined to follow the lead of the New York market to some extent. The average call money rate of 5 per cent in the East has practically been on a parity with the Eastern level, but the supply of funds today was somewhat heavier than before.

As over-the-year money seems to be getting more plentiful if anything than before, it is not thought that quotations will be any higher before the end of this month.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Although it had been expected that interior banks and foreign institutions were participating in last week's money market, the extent of their operations, as disclosed in the bank statement, comes as something of a surprise. The fact that the stock market had been fairly active, showing a slight general advance in values during the week, contributed beforehand an element of uncertainty to the bank statement, so that even a moderately unfavorable showing would not have occasioned much concern. The reported movements of money, however, in which the regular interior flow of currency was shown to have been considerably deranged, had already paved the way to what was to be disclosed in the final report on Saturday.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Locally money rates will follow closely those of New York. Bank surpluses are not large here, but the demand is not heavy, and should rates in New York measureably decline, there would be some shifting of loans from here to New York.

On call money rules from 5@5¼c per cent, with more money offered at 5 per cent to the quickest borrowers. Time money remains quiet, quotations range from 5@5½ per cent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Treasury receipts are keeping up well, and it is probable that there will be a small surplus for October. The heavy expenditures always occur in the first half of the month, which accounts for the deficit up to this time of nearly $2,000,000. A gradual decrease in Government expenditures has been accomplished.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Call money was in good demand and up to 3 per cent was paid, although the close was 2½ per cent. There was more disposition to take the bills offering at 3¾ per cent, and the bank securing the South African gold arrival [illegible] [illegible] before the end of the week. [illegible]

NATIVE CATTLE—Trains were slow getting in today and this handicapped the trade to some extent. Quality of early arrivals proved poor. There was a fair proportion of steers among the receipts, but there were no choice cattle on hand such as brought good prices yesterday. The market ruled sluggish from the start, with steers showing a weaker tendency. Cows and heifers displayed more activity and were steady, despite the fact that offerings were ordinary in quality. Veals manifested no change from yesterday and feeders were dull.

SOUTHERN CATTLE—Around 2000 cattle were received in the quarantine division. Receipts were about equally divided between Oklahomas and Arkansas and Mississippi canners and cutters. Generally the quality of offerings was ordinary. The market opened slow, the same as in the native division, and prospects were for a weaker tone to develop on steers. Buyers showed more willingness to take hold of she-stuff, which sold with some degree of activity and ruled fully steady. There was no change to the calf market. Top Oklahoma steers brought $4.25.

HOGS—The market opened on a 5c lower basis, but there was a good demand and trading was active for all good quality hogs. Pigs and lights were 10@15c lower and slow sale. The top of the market was $7.70 and the bulk of the hogs sold at $7.30@7.60. Good quality hogs, with weight, were scarce, and choice heavies would have brought a dime more than the best hogs on sale. Packers bought most of their hogs at $7.25@7.50. The best lights, 160 lbs. and less, sold at $7@7.40, and best pigs, 110 lbs. and under, went at $6.75@7.25. Common pigs and lights sold at $4.50@6.

SHEEP—With a good moderate supply on sale the market was on a steady basis and trading was active. The best lambs sold at $6.75@7.15 and did not include any that were real good. Fair to medium lambs went at $6@6.65, culls at $2.50@5, best mutton sheep at $4.60@4.75, fair at $4.25@4.50, stockers at $2.50@4 and bucks at $2.75@3.25. Old cull ewes sold at $1@2 and very slow. The supply was cleaned up early.

HORSES AND MULES—There was another good run of horses for the auction today, approximately 300 head being offered. The demand was broad and movement active. Mule supply generous and conditions not materially changed.

The Arrangement

of our Safe Deposit Vaults possesses a two-fold excellence.

¶ The street-level location of the vaults is only one feature of their general superiority.

¶ Satisfaction in personal service comes of a multitude of details and is hard to account for on paper. Let us show you our Safe Deposit Department.

FINANCIAL ITEMS

It is estimated that the earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for the current month, which is at the rate of $180,000,000 a year, will run close to $15,000,000. If the corporation could maintain this rate for 12 months, the balance for the common stock for the year would be more than 20 per cent.

It is learned that the coupons on the National Starch Co. 6 per cent bonds, which fall due on Nov. 1, are not likely to be paid. The reason given is that the 5 per cent bondholders claim that the 6 per cent bonds do not come ahead of the 5 per cent bonds. If this proves to be correct, the company would not be justified in paying the interest on the 6 per cent bonds. This will result in a readjustment of the bonded debt of the National Starch Co., which is a subsidiary of Corn Products Refining Co.

At a special meeting of the Butterick Co. the increase of the capital stock from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 will be authorized. This increase is for the purpose of acquiring the Ridgway Publishing Co., publishers of Everybody's Magazine. It is announced that three shares of Butterick stock will be given for one share of Ridgway stock. The Ridgway company is capitalized at $1,000,000, and the $3,000,000 increase will be use entirely for the purchase.

OVERSOLD WHEAT MARKET REACTS

Recent Unanimous Pressure Put Prices in Position for Steady Range.

As a result of the bearish tone to the news from all directions, which formed a situation of decided weakness, theoretically the general trade opinion in the local wheat market Wednesday seemed to be that the recent selling has been too unanimous.

While all factors at present are bearish the market is in such a nervous and unsettled condition due to the crisis in the adjustment of cash values that operators are particularly apprehensive of oversold conditions. This was conducive to short covering on all the soft spots which furnished quite fair support throughout the session. The market was very irregular. Prices were confined to a narrow range and, though they did not get far away from the previous closing levels, they made some spirited fluctuations. During a greater part of the session steady levels were in force.

There were further beneficial rains in the winter wheat belt. A competent authority issued a statement estimating the acreage at 32,000,000 acres, which would break all records. There was also a bearish statistical report regarding the size of the Canadian crop. The plant in the Southwest is said to be well seeded and generally in excellent condition.

the previous day were reflected in a weak tone in European markets. The downward trend abroad was also encouraged by free cargo offerings at a decline in price of 3d, continued heavy offerings from Russia, a bearish provisional report on the crop in the latter country and favorable advices from Argentine. Supplies in Europe are large and increasing, which makes an improvement from the present very dull conditions in the United States export conditions appear unlikely.

Receipts continue heavy. The fancy prices have apparently lured the farmers into selling freely, with the result that arrivals, not only at spring wheat terminals, but also at the primaries of the Southwest, are of very large volume. This and the growing reluctance of millers and other interests to acquire the grain at the enormous premiums, as well as the tendency of the flour business to recede from its recent healthy volume, caused a reduction in cash prices the first couple of days of the week and seemed to undermine the bullish situation that had prevailed.

However, the out movement is still liberal and stocks of the deliverable stuff, which is strongly held by bull interests, have made no appreciable increase. This morning a steady tone was apparent in the cash market, values being held up despite the dull trade. This caused fair support in the pit. Futures opened active and irregular. They recovered from the easier initial levels and gradually worked up. Toward noon they were nervous at fractional gains.

December wheat opened ⅛c higher to ⅛c lower, at $1.06⅛ to $1.05⅞, fluctuated between $1.06⅜ and $1.06 and advanced to $1.06¼. May wheat opened ⅛@⅜c lower, at $1.06¾, and advanced to $1.06⅞.

Benjamin Guggenheim, Esq., President of the International Steam Pump Company, under date of October 11, 1909, writes us substantially as follows:

1. First mortgage on all the properties directly owned by the International Steam Pump Co.; further secured by deposit of entire funded debt and $5,497,700 out of $5,500,000 common stock of the Henry R. Worthington Co. and by securities of other subsidiary companies.
2. Upon retirement of $3,500,000 6% Debentures, called for redemption on October 28, 1909, these bonds will constitute the only funded debt of the International Steam Pump Company. Approximately $1,000,000 bonds of subsidiaries are outstanding, provision for the retirement of which is made by sinking fund.
3. Mortgage provides sinking fund aggregating $6,000,000, sufficient to retire substantially half the total authorized issue by maturity.
4. Current assets in excess of all current liabilities, after issuance of these bonds, will equal approximately $10,000,000. Appraised value of plants, upwards of $11,600,000. Total tangible assets of combined companies over and above current liabilities, after issuance of these bonds, $23,350,000.
5. The Company agrees that the quick assets of the combined companies over and above current liabilities must be maintained or brought up to $8,000,000 before dividends may be declared on the common stock; this amount to be further increased with any addition to the amount of these bonds outstanding.
6. During the last four years, 1906-1909 inclusive, combined net income, before deducting dividends on preferred stocks of subsidiaries, averaged $1,830,000 per annum, nearly four times the full interest requirements after issuance of these bonds. Average for ten years, 1900-1909 inclusive, $1,740,000 per annum. Available earnings, fiscal year ended March 31, 1909, were three times these requirements.

FIRE IN STONE MANSION DOES $8000 DAMAGE

Starts in Kitchen of Jackson Johnson's Home in University City.

The decorations of Jackson Johnson's stone mansion in University City were badly damaged by smoke from a kitchen blaze early Wednesday. The fire worked its way to the second floor into a bedroom occupied by Miss Florence Johnson, who was awakened by smoke, and who gave the alarm. The fire burned for nearly an hour before two companies from St. Louis arrived.

Miss Johnson aroused the family, including her father and mother, her sister, Mrs. Lee Niedringhaus, Mr. Niedringhaus and her small brother and sister, Jack and Ada. Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Niedringhaus went to work with fire extinguishers. Mrs. Johnson closed all doors and windows and directed servants in carrying out valuable paintings, bric-a-brac and rugs. Miss Johnson telephoned to St. Louis for the fire engines.

Miss Johnson's clothes were ruined by smoke and flame. The costly kitchen was wrecked and the damage to decorations will run the total loss by fire to about $8000, Mr. Johnson said.

Mr. Johnson is president of the Roberts, Johnson & Rand Shoe Co. His residence is a gray stone structure with 32 rooms, the largest and handsomest home in University City. It has been occupied about five years by the Johnsons.

JAPANESE TAKES ISSUE WITH TAFT ON NEWSPAPERS

Says Editors Did Not Create War Talk, but Are Orators' Scapegoats.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—M. Zumoto, owner of the Japan Times of Tokio, and one of the Commercial Commissioners of Japan who are visiting this country, takes issue with President Taft's statement that all talk of war between the United States and Japan was the invention of newspaper editors.

"On our trip over the country, we have heard many criticisms of the press," said Zumoto. "Orators seem to have the habit of using the press as a scapegoat for any unpleasant incident they have to explain away.

"When we were in Minneapolis, President Taft told us that all the talk of war between our countries were inventions of editors who wanted to increase the circulation of their papers. The same story was taken up by other speakers.

"I think Mr. Taft's expression of opinion was founded on misinformation, for I am sure it is a mistake that the newspapers were responsible."

Zumoto plans to establish a commercial paper in New York.

CHILD POINTS OUT SLAYER OF HER COMPANIONS

MAN KILLED TWO

Enticed Little Ones Away and Then Shot Them—Escaped for a Time.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 20.—With one fierce dramatic gesture, her little white-sleeved and white gloved arm fully extended, Fanny Infusino, the 6-year-old victim of the culvert tragedy, and the companion of the two children who were slain on the night of Sept. 12, named Theodore Rizzo as the perpetrator of those murders in the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon. The identification, coming with startling suddenness, and with a positiveness that left no doubts, caused a sensation in the courtroom.

District Attorney Willis lifted the little girl to the chair in the witness box. Once there she gazed steadily at the spectators.

She was trying her best not to cry, and her smallness, considering her full-grown experiences, was pathetic.

Mr. Willis' success with her was remarkable. Under his questioning she gradually regained composure and lost self-consciousness, and the result was a clear and connected narrative, that was not shaken in its essentials by Mr. Goldstone's probing. He, too, was considerate. The child was not sworn, because of her age.

Child Tells Her Story.

Fanny at length told of the man approaching her and her two companions on the street, of the walk to the culvert, and then, arriving there, how he removed a portion of her clothing.

"What did you say to him?" she was asked.

"I tell him," she said brightly, "that I tell my father and that he shoot him and that I tell the policeman and that he come and have him arrested."

"What did he say?"

"He say I shoot you for fair."

Then she told how he shot. He drew his pistol as he uttered the words, shot first at Fanny, then at Ferdinando and then at Theresa.

The girl said that the man ran away from the place. She gave in detail her night's vigil with the dead body of her companion and her dying brother.

District Attorney Willis then reached the climax of his questioning.

"Have you seen this man since that time?" he asked.

She said that she had seen him twice.

"Do you see that same man in this Courthouse?"

Points Out the Man.

The words were barely uttered when the child straightened in her chair, one little hand shot out with a movement and a white, accusing finger was pointing directly at Theodore Rizzo.

Rizzo had been listening to the testimony, but he had not once looked in the direction of the child. He understood enough of this, however, to compel his gaze, and as he looked, great drops of perspiration stood upon his swarthy forehead.

"Is that the man who took you to the culvert and shot you?"

"Yes," said the child.

Lawyer Goldstone for the defense then took her in hand. She was hostile to him at first and scowled at him. He got little satisfaction out of her first replies, but he was careful and gentle with her, and after a while he won her confidence. Her evidence was not shaken on cross-examination.

NEW YORK WORLD FIGHT NETS $27,000,000 FRANCHISE TAXES

Court Decides Corporations Must Pay Levy on Grants, Up-State to Get $100,000,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ALBANY, Oct. 20.—A result of a decision today by the Court of Appeals, New York City, soon will be able to gather in $27,000,000 of special franchise taxes which have accumulated since the enactment of the special franchise tax law in 1901, as a result of agitation by the New York World.

The up-State localities will collect $100,000,000 under the decision, which was rendered in a suit against the Jamaica Water Supply Co. Many other corporations bound themselves with the Attorney-General to abide by the decision.

This decision marks the end of a contest begun by the New York World 10 years ago to compel corporations to make some return in taxes for the privileges conferred on public franchises. The corporations fought the demand stubbornly.
